Martin's Stories Conflict, Fairfax Officials Report After Questioning

Europe's Recovery Organization Will Go On Despite U. S.

Congress Will Not Consider Legislation on Subject Before January Resumption

Paris, July 15 (AP)—A well-informed source at the 16-nation economic conference said today the organization of European co-operation for recovery would proceed despite indications that United States money for the Marshall plan would not be available before late winter.

The informant—commenting on Secretary of State Marshall's address last night in Salt Lake City, in which he said the program would not be submitted to Congress before January—said the Marshall plan time doubtless was fixed after careful consideration of the best means of preparing the legislation.

(What the cost will be never has been stated definitely. Benjamin Cohen, State Department counselor, said a month ago Europe would need $24,000,000,000 during the next four years and would require $15,000,000,000 alone to prevent starvation.)

Official French circles said they saw no reason for altering the goal of September 1 for completion of a survey of resources and dollar needs among the 16 nations participating in the Paris conference. (Russia and eight eastern European nations declined to take part.)

The nations which make up the conference executive committee and four subcommittees on food and agriculture, iron and steel, transport and coal and power were selected yesterday by the committee. The committee members were to be submitted to a plenary session at 4 p. m. (10 a. m. E.S.T.).

This was expected to be the last plenary session until committee reports on assets and dollar needs are completed. A British spokesman said Foreign Secretary Bevin probably would return to London tomorrow.

One conference source said France would be among the first to feel ill effects of any delay in U. S. credits. French official sources said last week that dollar shortages probably would exhaust by January 1. The French government requisitioned by decree recently private French dollar holdings in the United States, would be exhausted by January 1. Battery Company To Move Location To St. James Street

The property at 104 St. James street, which several years ago housed the local store of the Holland Furnace Co., is being renovated as the future home of the Vanderlyn Battery Co., of 783 Broadway. It is feared that the property was purchased last Spring by Harry R. Hines, Sr., who operates the Broadway battery shop and a new front is under construction. A rear addition is expected to be built later, but the company has not definitely scheduled the start of the other project.

A garage, operated by Poughkeepsie owners, had been in the building prior to its purchase last spring. The upper part of the building will house modern apartments when renovations are completed.

Suspect Who Was Arrested in Kingston Is Grilled Seven Hours by Virginia Police; Parley With Marsh Planned by Magarity

Fairfax, Virginia, police questioned Alvah B. Martin, 29, of Taunton, Mass., for seven hours Monday concerning his statement that he left Norman LeRoy Plank's home the day before Plank was shot to death.

Plank, a clerk in the District of Columbia Small Claims Court, was found dead in the home of his sister, Mrs. Nell L. Burrer, July 6. He made his home there.

Green Asks Battle Against Those Who Backed Labor Bill

Congressmen Who Upheld Bill Would Be Losers; Says Ives Faces 1952 Defeat

Utica, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, today called for what he said would be "the greatest political battle ever waged by organized labor in America" to defeat congressmen who voted for the Taft-Hartley bill.

Green told delegates attending the 34th annual convention of the New York State Federation of Labor, in an address, that the battle would be "fought" relentlessly.

Green, who has called for defeat of U. S. Senator Irving M. Ives should the latter seek reelection in 1948, predicted in an interview that the New York state Republican would be defeated in New York city, if he runs, "by a greater margin than any other major candidate who has run for office" in the metropolis.

Green listed the political showdown as part of a three-front A.F.L. campaign, which included: (1) negotiation of new contracts with employers "which will shield labor from at least some of the drastic effects" of the Taft-Hartley law, (2) legal action through the courts to have the law held unconstitutional, (3) opposition to "every member of Congress who voted for this monstrous legislation."

Asks Campaign Begin
The 1948 political campaign may seem a long way off, Green observed, but called on the delegates "to enter that campaign right now."

"We must begin working with-out delay to elect a national administration," he said, "which will be responsible to the people's needs and Congress which will place human rights above property rights."

"With your help and with the help of every one of the 7,500,000 men and women who make up the American Federation of Labor and all their families and friends we propose to do just that."

"In this hour of crisis in our nation's history, half-way measures will not be enough. We are determined and ready to undertake an organized political campaign on a scale never before attempted. We will carry on our campaign in every street, in every village town and city of every state where the members of the American Federation of Labor live and work."

Predicts More Accidents
Eugene, Mary Donlon, chairman of the State Workmen's Compensation Board, predicted industrial accidents in 1947 would reach a new high and urged unions to join in a campaign to make workers safer.

State Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi told 600 A.F.L. delegates representing a claimed state membership of 1,400,000 he was "more than hopeful" that legislation providing "a working system of disability insurance" would be ready for introduction at the next legislative session.

President Signs Export-Import Act

Washington, July 15 (AP)—President Truman today signed legislation extending export-import controls over scarce commodities until next Feb. 29 and said some foreign trade supervision will be needed even after then.

The controls, embodied in the second war powers act, originally expired June 30, but were extended for 15 days by a stop-gap Congressional resolution.

The law vests authority for handling the program generally in the hands of the Secretary of Commerce.

Parents Still Fight For Guard Rails, Notch Repairs

Lanesville, July 15—Chairman John Papp of the parents committee waging a strong fight for repairs to the Notch Road, before their children have to ride over it to school next fall have communicated with Egbert Dibbel, superintendent of highways in the Town of Hunter, recommending that guard rails be installed along the sides and the road improved during favorable weather.

Complaining that guard rails have not been put up, despite a promise from Supervisor Richard Ham at a meeting with them last January 18, the parents committee stated in their letter:

"It is only two months before school begins, and if the work is not done the parents will keep their children home from school until some action takes place. 'I (John Papp) have in my possession a letter, dated December 28, 1946, from Mr. Burton H. Belknap of the State Education Department stating that he has assurance from the town superintendent of highways and the chairman of the Board of Supervisors that the Notch Road will be given proper attention."

"What's the delay? Parents committee will not go through this again."

Earlier, Lt. Magarity had said there was a "big gap" to be filled before a decision would be made, in conference with Commonwealth's Attorney Hugh Marsh, whether to file murder charges against Plank.

When Plank's body was found a certificate of suicide was issued but this was withdrawn after a police investigation brought out that a stranger had been at the Burrer home with Plank on Saturday night and that Mrs. Burrer's car was missing.

Humphrey Hails Coal Wage Contract

N.A.M. Head Testifies Nation Should Not Get Inflation

Washington, July 15 (AP)—George M. Humphrey, Pittsburgh coal and steel executive, said today the new coal wage contract "will do more to stabilize the economy and retard inflation" than settlement of any controversy in the industry in several years.

Humphrey, who played a major role in negotiation of the agreement with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, told the Joint Congressional Committee on the economic report that the contract will spur output of coal, and added: "Production and only production."

Governors Give Marshall Assurance of Support

Salt Lake City, July 15 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told the nation's governors that the United States has reached a "turning point" in European relations and got prompt assurances today of bipartisan support for his plan to help rebuild Europe.

Unless it elects to lose its "incalculable stake" in Europe, the cabinet member said, America must extend a justifiable measure of aid to friendly countries or see them drift into a non-democratic orbit.

In a crowded eight-hour stop-over on a strenuous roundtrip flight from Washington, the graying soldier-diplomat grimly told the governors' conference here that there is "no blinking the fact that this country now stands at the turning point in its rela-

Central Hudson Seeks To Reduce Rates

New electric rates which slightly reduce the charges to most residence and commercial customers were filed with the Public Service Commission by the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation today.

These rates will result in a $70,000 reduction in the company's annual electric revenue which was found justified in a review of the electric department earnings by the Public Service Commission.

Increased costs of the materials used in making gas and of labor have reduced earnings of Central Hudson's gas department to such an extent that it became necessary for the company to petition the Public Service Commission some weeks ago for an increase in gas rates.

As far as possible, the rates for electricity and gas are adjusted separately so that each department of the company stands by itself.

Legion to Elect Its New Commander

Attorney James G. Connelly, sole nominee for the office of commander of the local post, American Legion, is expected to be elected and installed at the annual meeting of the post at the memorial building on West O'Reilly street tonight.

The new commander will replace Ernest A. Steuding, superintendent of public works. All other officers of the post will be elected and installed at the session which is usually the biggest each year for local legionnaires.

Before he climbed wearily aboard the presidential "Sacred Cow" for the return trip to Washington, Marshall made a detailed explanation of his economic rehabilitation plan to the state executives in a closed door session.

Dewey Wins First Place In Polling

Secret Action Among GOP Governors Puts New York Executive Out in Front

Warren Is Second Governors Stress Point Balloting Is Personal Expression

Salt Lake City, July 15 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York won first place by a wide margin today in a secret-ballot poll of Republican governors expressing their preference for the 1948 G.O.P. presidential nominee.

Democratic governors showed such a wide variance of opinion in the same poll that only one potential candidate got as many as two first place votes for the vice presidential nomination. He was former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes.

In a poll conducted by The Associated Press in cooperation with The Denver News and the Salt Lake Telegram, Dewey received 10 first place votes and his nearest contender, Gov. Earl Warren of California, two.

The remainder of the total of 17 first place votes cast by the Republican governors were distributed evenly to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois, Senator Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania.

The decision of Democrats about a vice presidential runner-up with President Truman was demonstrated by single first place votes for nine possible candidates, following the two for Byrnes.

This field included Secretary of State Marshall, who addressed the annual governors conference here last night.

Others are Navy Secretary Forrestal, Commerce Secretary Harman, Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington, Senator Scott Lucas of Illinois, former Gov. Robert S. Taft of Ohio, former Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia and Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming.

To insure freedom of expression, reporters for the Associated Press, The News and The Telegram asked governors to write their preferences on unmarked slips of paper which could not be identified when the boxes were opened.

Seventeen Republican governors and 11 Democrats participated in the poll out of the 43 state executives now present at the conference. Others either did not participate or said they had not made up their minds.

Stassen, the only publicly announced candidate for the G.O.P. presidential nomination, topped the list of second choices with six of the 16 Republican votes cast in that bracket.

Ulster, Catskill Mountain Buses to Use New Terminal

All buses operating from the Ulster county and general Catskill Mountain region will be required by a New York regulation to use the new bus terminal to be built by the Port of New York Authority, it was learned today.

The authority notified the New York City Planning Commission several weeks ago that the proposed $18,000,000 union bus terminal in midtown Manhattan, west of Eighth avenue, is expected to be ready for operation by June, 1949.

This means that such bus companies as the Adirondack Transit Lines Inc., which now has its terminal in the Dixie Hotel on 42nd street, will be required to move facilities to the new union terminal.

Bus companies in general, however, look upon the move as an asset to their business, it was learned yesterday, largely because of the fact that buses will come

Democratic Leader Fined

Gael Sullivan, vice president and executive director of the Democratic National Committee, leaves his car at South Kingston, R. I., where he was fined $100 and costs in District Court on a charge of dangerous driving. He previously had pleaded innocent in the same court to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, but the charge later was reduced to dangerous driving. He did not contest the lesser charge. (AP Wirephoto)

Severe Storm Hits Walden; 75-Mile Wind Blasts Trees

$66,985 Received As State Aid for Highway Purposes

County Treasurer States Checks Have Been Sent to Supervisors in Various Areas

Jay W. Rifenbary, county treasurer, announced this morning that he has received a check from the state comptroller for $66,985.70, in the form of state aid to towns for highway purposes under Section 279 of the Highway Law for the present year.

Mr. Rifenbary said that checks have been forwarded to supervisors of each town to cover amounts due. The amount due each town is based on $37.50 per mile for the number of miles maintained by each town, except in Denning and Kingston, where the rate is higher per mile.

The amounts allotted each town are:

Denning	$4,399.50
Esopus	1,755.00
Gardiner	2,062.50
Hardenburgh	1,855.86
Stuyvesant	2,253.75
Kingston	583.70
Lloyd	2,107.50
Marbletown	3,161.25
Marlborough	2,025.00
New Paltz	1,615.88
Olive	2,553.75
Plattekill	1,815.00
Rochester	5,193.75
Rosendale	1,173.75

Shandaken	2,137.50
Shawangunk	3,375.00
Ulster	1,631.25
Wawarsing	2,600.00
Woodstock	2,730.00
To County Road Fund	13,133.16
Total	$66,985.70

Only one injury was reported, that of a lineman who was cut on the foot by an axe while trimming tree branches. After being treated he was able to return to work.

While the fury of the storm seemed to be spent over Walden some damage by severe winds was considerable wind up the Wallkill valley toward Wallkill and in the Dwaarkill area. Newburgh itself escaped the severe wind and hail but considerable damage was done to the system of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation by linemen and trees being blown over transmission lines. Men worked all night to clear the lines and by 3 o'clock this morning the system had been restored to normal.

Street lights in Walden were out all night and it was feared that repairs could not be made today

Lights, Telephones Are Disrupted by Twister Monday

A severe electric storm which blew out of the southeast and spent its fury on Walden Monday afternoon did considerable damage and left the village without electric light and telephone service most of the night. Winds of from 60 to 75 miles an hour uprooted large trees in the village and after about three minutes of severe wind the rainstorm broke and heavy rain and hail fell for a few minutes before the storm divided into two parts and apparently blew itself out.

Communities three or four miles from Walden reported no rain and apparently the storm after spending its fury on Walden drifted to the northwest and diminished.

There was considerable damage to the electric system of the New York State Electric Gas Company and about half the phones in Walden were out of commission. Both power and phone service was being restored today and it was expected that the telephone circuits would be restored today.

Most of the damage to electric light wires was caused by falling trees and branches. In some places trees two and a half feet in diameter were blown over. There was some damage by severe lightning. An estimate of property damage could not be learned but it was stated that most of the damage to property would be confined to hail damage in market gardens.

The storm broke at about 5:30 o'clock with a high wind preceding the rain and hail. Large houses fell in many sections of Walden village for five minutes and the rain was extremely heavy.

Washington Says Matter Is 'Urgent'

Greeks Urge Debate Be Speeded, U.S. Officials Concerned at Situation

Two Fights Loom Greek Forces Declare Guerrillas Caught in Pincers

Lake Success, July 15 (AP)—The United States demanded today that the United Nations Security Council give top priority to the explosive Balkan problem in view of its "urgency."

Herschel V. Johnson, U. S. delegate, proposed that the Council sidetrack all other issues this afternoon and work exclusively on the Balkan case until it arrived at a decision.

Johnson declared that he was acting on instructions from Washington where top officials considered the situation "urgent."

He disclosed that he had proposed last night to Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, Council president, that the Balkan discussions, originally scheduled for this afternoon, be moved up to the morning session.

He said, however, that he would not press his demands because some delegates apparently were not ready to begin discussions this morning. He did not indicate which delegates objected.

Lange assured Johnson that all Council meetings this week, except this morning's session, would be devoted to the Balkan question. He said he would announce the schedule for next week later.

The Council then resumed its scheduled discussions of the global police force.

Johnson's move came after the Council received an urgent appeal from the Greek government to expedite the Balkan debate.

Two Battles Imminent
Athens, July 15 (AP)—Two major engagements were imminent in embattled northern Greece today as government forces, reported to be closing the jaws of a pincers on leftist guerrillas, took up positions along valley roads leading to Ioannina (Janina), capital and largest city of Epirus.

A large guerrilla force moving down the Voio river valley toward Ioannina from Konitsa was reported caught in the pincers of a Greek army unit reinforced from Konitsa and replacements moving north from Ioannina. The attacking guerrillas began moving southward after their attack on Konitsa two days ago, military sources said, refusing further details.

West of Ioannina at the village of Kalpaki, where a skirmish took place last night, leftist forces were reported holding strategic heights. A new clash apparently was expected there.

The whereabouts of the guerrilla column reported driving in Ioannina along the Voio river valley was not pinpointed by the informants. This column, which by-passed Konitsa, was estimated at more than 1,000 men.

(A British foreign office spokesman said in London Britain was investigating reports that an international brigade was invading Greece. Other British informants said that if the existence of such a brigade was proved, a joint British-American protest might be lodged with the United Nations.)

(It cannot prophesy whether British troops will be ordered to take part in the fighting. The spokesman replied to a Greek correspondent's question.)

Information available in Athens indicated that a battle might be joined about 15 to 20 miles north of Ioannina.

Bill Is Approved
Washington, July 15 (AP)—Legislation to permit the cashing this fall of $1,800,000,000 worth of terminal leave bonds was unanimously approved today by the Senate Armed Services Committee. The bill, already passed unanimously by the House, would permit former enlisted men and some officers who hold the bonds to cash them any time after September 1.

McNierney Gives Bail

600 Zincmen Still Out
Donora, Pa., July 15 (AP)—A strike of 600 zinc workers at the American Steel and Wire Company plant here went into its second day today—the first work stoppage by C.I.O.-United Steelworkers since President Philip Murray banned walkouts for at least two years. Murray asked "two years of peace in the industry." Other departments of the plant, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corporation, were not affected by the strike which a high steelworkers' union official termed "unauthorized." An officer of Local 1727—to which the strikers belong—said the men want a review of job classifications. A company spokesman said no formal grievance had been filed. The earliest apartment houses in the United States were built in New York City between 1870 and 1875.

Brood Codling Moth Is Still Active in County

The first brood codling moth is still active in county orchards, according to Walter Baran, assistant county agricultural agent, and the fourth spray should be applied on the trees approximately 10 to 12 days after the last application. Apple maggot flies are also active, Baran said, and should reach their peak very soon.

Where scab offers a problem Baran suggests the continued use of sulphur, but adds that sulphur should be omitted where there is no danger of scabs.

He advises that four D.D.T. or four lead cover sprays can be applied this year without likely danger of exceeding the residue tolerance.

In making the formula for this spray, Baran suggests the use of wettable sulphur (at manufacturer's directions) mixed with two pounds of D.D.T. 50 per cent powder and 100 gallons of water. If another spray is desired, it can be made from wettable sulphur added to 100 gallons of water and three pounds each of arsenate of lead and spray lime.

DN-111 at one and a quarter pounds should be added to the above formula, according to prescriptions on the package, if Red Mite (4 to 6 per leaf) are present. Satisfactory results may also be attained by the use of a D-4 dust.

Pear Psylla Noted
Pear Psylla nymphs are building up in some orchards again, Baran said, and the pear trees should be checked carefully to see if psylla or codling moth are present.

A spray made of one pint of nicotine sulfate, one pound of spray lime and two pounds of D.D.T. 50 per cent wettable powder mixed with 100 gallons of water should be applied to the trees immediately.

Where pear scab and fabrea leaf spot are a problem, sulphur should be applied in the same amount as for the aforementioned apple scab control.

Wampum, the shell-money of North American Indians, was of two colors: dark purple and white.

State Automobile Dealers Praise Press Safety Drive

Declare They Will Continue to Fight for Compulsory Inspection

Members of the State Publishers Association and the Press Association today received the congratulations of the New York State Automobile Dealers for undertaking their summer safety campaign.

In promising the full cooperation of the 1977 car dealers in the State Dealers Association, President Carl E. Fribley stated:

"The influence of your associations will be most beneficial in promoting and developing a sense of responsibility on the part of the drivers in New York State."

Mr. Fribley said the dealer organization had long urged development of a stronger safety program for New York State highways. He listed as the four factors that must be considered in reducing the "soaring" accident rate the condition of our highways, the age of most automobiles on the road today, education of drivers and compulsory inspection of automobiles.

Pointing out that the first two causes of accidents can only be cured by time, Mr. Fribley said the driver education program "is the only thing we can sink our teeth into at the present time." He added:

"I am sure that your organization, with its tremendous influence upon the people of the state, will do a splendid job in promoting a greater consciousness among drivers of the terrible toll accidents are taking in this state and in making them aware of what they can do to reduce this toll."

Turning to the fourth factor, Mr. Fribley said the State Dealers Association was sponsoring a campaign of voluntary automobile inspection as its contribution to the cause of highway safety. He said the free inspections which have been carried out so far have shown that approximately one-third of all cars on the road have mechanical defects and "are definitely a menace on the highways."

We dealers feel that this campaign proves the vital need for compulsory inspection, he commented. We have fought for compulsory inspection because we know how many potentially dangerous cars are being driven. Un-

Arrested After Chase
New York, July 15 (AP)—Arrested while being pursued by a crowd of 100 residents of Harlem, James Johnson, 34-year-old Negro laborer, was booked early today on charges of attempted rape and felonious assault. Police said the crowd sought to capture Johnson after he had seized a 16-year-old white high school girl on the front stoop of her home and attempted to drag her into a hallway. Motorist taxes in 1946 totaled $2,507,000,000.

NOW, OVER 56,000 OWNERS

of Kaiser and Frazer Cars—

MORE THAN 12,000 CARS BUILT IN JUNE!

Yes, Willow Run has reached a production rate of more than 12,000 KAISER and FRAZER cars per month—better than a car per minute! One hundred and twenty million dollars worth have been sold at retail. And the public buys the factory output every month—and asks for more. Production is being increased!

The reason for the phenomenal success of these 100%-postwar automobiles is easy to discover: The 56,000 proud owners who have driven them millions of miles are the best salesmen we have! They are enthusiastic—and tell their friends. They know they have something new and different. They know they have styling and design far in advance of the rest of the industry. And they know they enjoy a ride no other car can equal!

Drive either of these cars: Compare the ride with the best you have ever known. You will want to own a KAISER or a FRAZER. Then place your order! Increased production means that we can now give you early delivery.

Both cars are serviced with genuine factory parts—wherever you go—by one of the four largest automobile dealer organizations in the world.

FIVE IMPORTANT REASONS WHY THE PUBLIC LIKES THE KAISER AND THE FRAZER

1. Because they are beautiful! They look like what they are—the newest things on wheels! They set the fashion for all future motor cars—in body lines and colors.
2. Because they are roomy! The whole width of these cars is inside! Both seats are more than five feet wide. Six adults have room to spare. And the 1, too, there is 27 cu. ft. of space in the luggage compartment!
3. Because they are safe! Extra low center of gravity and stabilizer bars both front and rear, cut sway to a minimum. They hug the road! Superlative vision in all directions. Smooth, positive braking action.
4. Because they perform! The economical; 100-hp., six-cylinder engine provides a very high horsepower-to-weight ratio. Sensational acceleration. Unbelievable gasoline economy!
5. Because of the ride. Owners say there never was a ride like this! No car designed before the war can even compete. This you must experience! Compare the ride, today!

"I like to get my share of our party line...and I know...so do others!"

"It means better service for everyone on the line when we have consideration for the other users. So when I have several calls to make, I allow a few minutes in between; after all, many of them can be made at almost any time. And it gives others a chance to use the line too."

"I find that our other party-liners cooperate in this way too. And believe me, it surely means more satisfaction for everyone!"

True enough! Thoughtful consideration of others—such as keeping telephone conversations brief, answering the phone promptly and trying not to interrupt when others are using their phones—makes any party line a better party line.

Body Is Removed

New York, July 15 (AP)—The body of Sheila Manning, former actress found strangled in her apartment a week ago, was moved from Bellevue Hospital morgue to a funeral parlor shortly after midnight to avoid curious crowds. Detectives, who said they still were without a definite motive for the slaying and had no suspects, kept watch on persons visiting the unidentified establishment. Funeral services were arranged for this afternoon, but the name of the officiating clergyman was withheld. Burial will be in Mount Hope Cemetery, Westchester county.

A battery device has been developed to light up a lady's handbag when opened.

Jewels with Cotton Suit

New ways of wearing jewels to give a personal touch to your ensemble. A tailored cotton suit of pink and black flowered print with flower clips worn on a band of black ribbon. The gold filled clips are worked to give the new light open look with a cluster of pink stones in the center. Earrings of matching design and a dainty bracelet of interlocking gold loops. Suit—Dorothy Cox of McMullen. Hat—Edward Payne.

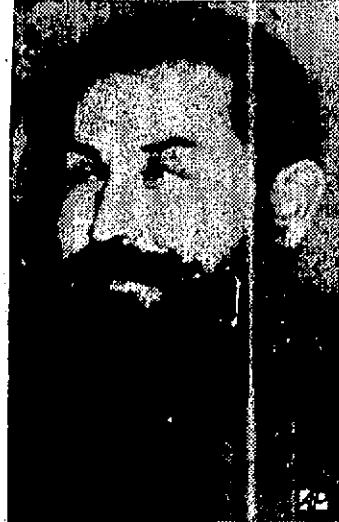

The Hat's Out of the Bag

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Fashion's latest sleight-of-hand trick is performed by Model Myrle Drowdy, photographed on the Bath Club beach.
With a twist of her wrists she converts a hat made of washable broadcloth and a single hoop of rust-proof steel into a roomy beach bag.

To fold hat into bag, Myrle takes the hoop as shown below (left) and twists her left hand out, her right hand in. This motion forces the hoop into three coils that telescope to make the beach bag (right).
Author of this ingenious idea is Max Wasserbach, a young Irvington, N. J., engineer.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Major General Henry Granville Sharpe, U. S. Army, retired, formerly of Kingston, who died at Providence, R. I., Sunday, will be held from the Fort Myers Chapel Wednesday at 11:30. Burial will be in Arlington National Cemetery.

The funeral of Joseph F. Janiczek was held from his home, 96 Murray street, Monday morning at 9 o'clock and at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, 30 where a high Mass of requiem was offered by the Rev. Joseph J. Siczek. The response to the Mass were by the children's choir. The church was filled to capacity with sorrowing relatives and friends, who came to pay their last tribute by assisting at the Mass. During the days the body reposed in the home, hundreds called to offer their sympathy and condolence to the bereaved parents and family. Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, the Immaculate Conception Holy Name Society, led by Valentine Skop, president, assembled at the residence, and assisted Father Siczek in recitation of the Rosary. At 7:30 the Rosary Society, of which the boy's mother is president, visited the home and recited the Rosary. At 8 o'clock the Hasbrouck Social Club called and held ritualistic service. Members of the Kingston High School faculty and students from the school, came to pay their respects. The casket was banked high on all sides with beautiful flowers, and on the spiritual box, many trays were dozens of Mass cards, silent tokens of the high esteem in which the departed was held. The bearers were Edward Lukaszewski, Donald Tucker, Joseph Bujak, Joseph Lukaszewski, Adelbert Raczkowski and Francis Duffy. Burial was in Mount Calvary Cemetery. Father Siczek giving the final absolution at the grave.

Serve Goulash as Economy Dish

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
How about a dinner using real neck for a goulash and fresh apricots for a delicately flavored pie? Let's go—

Veal Goulash
(Serves 6)
One and one-quarter pounds veal neck, cut in cubes, seasoned flour, ¼ cup fat, ¼ cup hot water, stock or tomato juice, or 1 cup sour cream, 1 onion, thinly sliced. Dredge veal cubes in seasoned flour. Sauté in hot fat in heavy kettle or skillet until brown. Add hot water, stock, tomato juice or sour cream, and sliced onion, and simmer covered about 1 hour or until meat is tender. Serve with pan gravy, surrounded with fluffy mashed potatoes.

Fresh Apricot Pie
Three cups fresh apricots, halved, ¾ to 1 cup sugar or ¾ cup honey, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 pastry recipe for 9-inch double crust. Line a pie plate with pastry. Arrange fresh ripe apricots close together in the pastry. Sprinkle sugar over fruit, or add honey. Add sprinkling of lemon juice. Dot with butter. Cover with top crust, perforated to allow steam to escape, or use lattice strips. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 50 to 60 minutes. A sprinkling of cinnamon may be added, if desired.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed rhubarb, soft-cooked eggs, whole wheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Cream of tomato soup, croissants, toasted peanut butter and crisp bacon sandwiches, blackberries, cream, cookies, iced tea, milk.
DINNER: Veal goulash, fluffy mashed potatoes, broccoli with lemon butter, raw carrot sticks, soft rolls, butter or fortified margarine, fresh apricot pie, coffee, milk.

5600 Miles Away From His Patient

No physician was available on the tiny Pacific island of Palmyra when a soldier was badly hurt in an airplane crash. But a government weather observer on the island remembered his amateur radio days and contacted a fellow ham in Audubon, N. J. Says Situation Serious

Lake Success, July 15 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, reported today that an "extremely serious" situation existed as a result of a disappointing response to the U.N. plan for providing post-U.N.R.R.A. relief on a voluntary basis. In a report to the economic and social council, Lie declared the contributions offered so far would meet no more than 60 per cent of the world's urgent relief needs and called for immediate action to remedy the situation. The council meets next Saturday.

NEWSPAPER TRAINING

Speaking against standardizing schools of Journalism, Basil L. Walters, executive editor of the Knight newspapers, said that it would not be good for America or for the world to permit a system to grow up whereby a writer would have to acquire a license to be a journalist.

Varied training and experience are a better background for a newspaper man than a prescribed course, said this editor. This broad view of journalistic training is one aspect of the matter of free speech and a free press, and "to attempt to license thought and expression is to strike at the fundamentals of man's freedom," said Walters.

Many editors have been prejudiced against graduates of schools of journalism, believing that theory and technique are of little value without a rich background of knowledge and experience. The great editors of the past and of the present have been distinguished for the abundance and variety of their experience and for their individualistic editorial ability. It would be too bad if the modern tendency toward standardization should affect the training of newsmen.

A postgraduate year at a good college which offers such a course in journalism never hurt any candidate for the newspaper profession who has spent the preceding years getting a firm grounding in science and the humanities. But when newspaper men get together and the talk falls upon this, they usually agree that high school and undergraduate courses in technique without that first firm grounding are mostly wasted. Techniques are easily and quickly added to good foundations. Without foundation, a technique is like a roof without a house.

Yes, it's a small world now, but just as much trouble as ever can be packed into it without half trying.

HAY FEVER

The hay fever season is coming at this shivering nation endwise. What to do? What to do? Well, there has been a lot of research since last year, and while nobody can promise anything to anybody with complete assurance, there seems to be more hope than usual for the shivers. There is talk of "miracle drugs," at least some of which will probably do some people some good. There seems to be hope especially in a new drug called "anthallin" which, while only professing to be in the experimental stage, offers hope and even hints at a permanent cure.

Many prospective sufferers are said to be finding relief, or at least hope of it, in weird drugs known by weird names which are expected to relieve even if they do not cure. But others merely adopt a heroic and spartan attitude, trust in God or fate to pull them through.

For the relief of sufferers not devoid of faith, it is reported that drugs may be more or less effective in as much as 60 or 65 per cent of cases. Further than this, the reporter saith not. And after all, frost does come along after a few eternities of misery.

ALL FOR ALL

One principle embodied in General Marshall's plan for Europe is that no one country's problems are considered as a unit. An overall view is to be taken of shortages and of remedies alike.

Crops are rotting in Holland because of a shortage of refrigerator cars, and wheat is being used for cattle feed in France because no cars are available for shipping it to points where it is badly needed. It would take far too many cars to supply each country's individual needs in that line, but by treating Europe as a whole, pooling cars, and shifting them to points of greatest need, far fewer would be required. American economists, studying the situation, say that if the U. S. is going to furnish these cars, it is reasonable for us to expect our plans to be carried out. While it would not be tactful to say so, the

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

AGGRESSION

Back in the days when the world was at peace and nations believed that peace was a possibility, there used to be a concept called International Law. They taught it, like much else, in the universities, and the learned John Bassett Moore wrote a many volume compendium on the subject. International lawyers abounded in all nations, attended conferences and produced a vast amount of opinion on various subjects. The theory was that as men lived by law in their private lives, so nations could live by law without recourse to war. There was even a world court of law.

One of the questions that faced every international lawyer was the precise meaning of aggression. In short, it had to do with who slapped down whom first. Upon it hinged war guilt. Upon it even more, hinged the question of how to maintain the peace. Aggression is not easily defined unless the narrow concept is accepted that the nation that first moves against another is the aggressor. Actually, that nation may be moving in self-defense. Small and weak nations often acted to involve the larger and more powerful nations in their problems. Hitler, for instance, upset all notions of aggression by using a Fifth Column, often composed of natives who served him rather than their own country. Sometimes they were suborned; often they were ideologically conditioned. A Communist party, taking orders from the Kremlin, exists in every nation, even here in the United States. It is a direct arm of Soviet policy. Is that aggression or not? Is the existence of a Fifth Column an act of aggression?

It is interesting that back in July, 1933, certain nations met at London to define aggression. They were Rumania, Estonia, Latvia, Poland, Turkey, Soviet Russia, Persia and Afghanistan. Of these countries, Estonia and Latvia have disappeared; Rumania and Poland are puppet states; Persia has become Iran and a battleground; Turkey is the ward of the United States; and we know nothing about Afghanistan. Yet, back in 1933, they were proud and sovereign and concerned with definitions.

They finally hit upon five precise definitions of aggression, four of which followed the orthodox form of attack by armed forces, but the fifth was novel and very important. It read as follows:

In its terms, support to armed bands formed in its territory which have invaded the territory of another State, or refusal notwithstanding the request of the invaded State, to take, in its own territory, all the measures in its power to deprive those bands of all assistance or protection.

This clause has, of course, been ignored altogether in recent years. Armed bands have generally been supported by contending countries, Yugoslavia, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Korea, China, Greece and now even Italy knows alien-armed, alien-controlled bands that have over-run their country, even to the extent of conquering them. The Russians agreed to the definition, but they have not abided by it. They will not abide by it. To them these armed bands are native partisans fighting for Communism. For Russia to refuse them support would be to undermine its basic concept of the inevitability of the world socialist revolution.

At the San Francisco Conference the Charter of the United Nations should have defined every possible form of peace-time interference and intervention; but aggression is a ticklish subject, particularly among nations that have just undergone a war of aggression and believe themselves to be peace-loving.

There was another clause in the document from which I quote to reinforce the stern definition of aggression, namely:

No political, military, economic or other considerations may serve as an excuse of justification for the aggression referred to in Article 2 (quoted above).

That, too, is forgotten in this era of ideological and imperialistic preparation for war when anything seems to be proper, including the use of propaganda, wireless, armed bands, enforced hunger, the distribution of relief. It is an anarchistic era growing out of a frightful war and in the shadow of the deepest fear man has ever known—the fear of total destruction. But anarchy is no substitute for international law as the Capone gang was no substitute for law enforcement. (Copyright, 1947, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

PAINFUL SHOULDER TREATED BY X-RAY

I have written several times about bursitis of the shoulder joint, in which the lining of the bursa or bag of water becomes inflamed and causes considerable pain, especially when the shoulder joint or muscles are in action. This little bag of water, used by Nature to help protect joints, is found also in back of heel, back of elbow, back of knee, front of knee (housemaid's knee). Pain is caused by injury and sometimes by infection. If caused by injury, pain is aggravated by movements of the shoulder joint and muscles.

Some of the methods of treatment after cause has been discovered and removed insofar as possible are: (1) strapping the shoulder with adhesive tape, (2) inserting a mandarin and moving fluid in and out, and (3) injecting the bursa with a 5 per cent sodium morrhuate solution, (4) injecting skin above bursa with alcohol, (5) X-ray treatments and (6) surgical operation.

Some months ago I spoke of the success obtained in several cases by X-ray treatment of bursitis, and further support of the value of X-ray treatment is now reported by Dr. B. R. Young in the "American Journal of Roentgenology and Radiology," Springfield, Ill.

There were 87 patients treated by X-rays, some acute (recent) and some chronic (had the bursitis for a long time). All but two of the patients with acute bursitis were relieved of pain, and the majority were well in one week or less. Those who had been suffering with bursitis for a considerable time required a larger number of treatments. Two-thirds obtained complete relief of pain in two weeks or less and only a few were not benefited. Of those with bursitis for a long time, (chronic bursitis) only one-third were cured and almost 50 per cent obtained no relief of pain.

The first thought, then, in painful shoulder is to try to find the cause which may not be injury but infection. In infection, pain is present even when shoulder is at rest and you should consult your physician and dentist to try to find the infection. If injury is the cause, any movement of the shoulder joint aggravates the pain and your physician may use one or more of the above methods of treatment or refer you to an X-ray specialist.

The earlier the treatment is given the better the results obtained.

Marked for Future Communist Harvest

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WISTBROOK PEGLER

New York, June 14.—In forbidding the spending of union money for publications promoting or opposing candidates or issues in the public politics, Congress had in mind the fact that gross income of the union body rose to more than one thousand million dollars a year during the war. Most of this was available as a slush fund to continue to elect members of the Roosevelt party of its offshoots and successors. I mention the offshoots and successors because, even as the Nazi party, the fascist party and the old Lenin-Trotsky party in Russia, the New Deal party was bound to disintegrate and has done so, as we note in the recent appearance of the slithering groups led by Henry Wallace and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, as John Garner remarked to Jim Farley, in 1940, and as Farley now relates in his belated memoirs, most of the partisans had no principles and cared not a damn for Roosevelt but were interested only in staying in power.

Actually, this union slush fund was created by the New Deal party itself for its own purpose. That is, the New Deal passed the Wagner Act and set up the Labor Relations Board and then drove millions of workers into the man-traps, all subject to dues, fees, taxes and assessments. Very few of the boss unionists gave a damn for Roosevelt or for the working people who actually constitute the living body of American labor. Most of them, were interested only in staying in power and in preserving their easy, luxurious living and the system of nepotism which had actually created a royal class, these bosses have had hundreds of millions of dollars under their personal control, usually there has been a form of "democratic procedure" in the manipulation of the money but the effect still has been that the high bosses could spend it as they would to keep in power the people who in turn kept them in power.

The minor members of the "executive councils" of the big international unions naturally had the same incentive to keep Roosevelt in the White House.

Old Alex Whitney, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, casually evinced the politically brutal enmity that developed among this class when he answered President Truman's "read" to draft the railroad men into the army by a threat of his own to spend forty some millions to defeat Truman at the polls in 1948. This isn't his money and a poll of the membership, who are more purely and primitively American than most other groups of similar size, undoubtedly would repudiate the temperish old master on this point if such a poll could be taken.

In an earlier minor emergency, Dan Tobin, the president of the teamsters, announced that his union would spend as much money as might be necessary to elect its own candidates, meaning Roosevelt rubber-stamps, of course, in an off-year Congressional election, thus, also, in Boston, John M. Sullivan, the head of Local 26 of the teamsters, one of the biggest locals in the country, calmly committed the rank and file to elect to Congress Jim Curley, a villainous old cheat who was the more contemptible in the eyes of the horny-handed freighters who push the box cars over the road because, when he finally was caught, he was yellow and whined for mercy on the ground that his son had made an honorable record in the war. But in addition to this, Sullivan promised that the teamsters of Local 25 would raise a pot of money to pay the old crook's personal debts which were the hangover of some earlier grafting in the office of mayor of Boston so that Curley could be even with the board when he should go to Congress. He was elected, too, and it was during that term that the despicable old coward underook a shakedown for which he is now serving a term in the country club known as the Danbury Correctional Institution.

Only the union bosses and the politicians of the Roosevelt following, such as Mayor O'Dwyer of New York, were alarmed over the determination of Congress to bring these slush funds under control lest the power of money in elections should destroy the republic. Obviously, the rank and file, had nothing to lose. O'Dwyer knew that if he went down the line for the bosses, who handle the money, he would put them in his debt when dough-day came again.

Although Tobin is one of the most successful kings, he is, nevertheless, in some manifestations so dumb that it is a marvel that he has been able to go on and on, re-electing himself president for 40 years.

Victoria and Franz Josef sat their thrones longer but few other monarchs of the blood ever did. And, while their relatives were spared the necessity ever to appear to work, Mr. Tobin's son, after all, have done well, if we remember that their father is only an American king, and a union king.

Four years ago, Tobin, who is "editor" of his own personal publicity organ called the International Teamster, printed a two-page photograph in the middle of the magazine showing "high officials of labor and government" at a dinner in Washington, given by his international executive board. And, among the happy smiling faces were those of old Dan and his sons, Fred ($10,000 a year), director of the union's legislative bureau; and Joe ($6,500 a year) of the statistical bureau and the wife of son Frank ($10,000 a year) who runs the statistical bureau but wasn't present. Another son, Ed, works with Matt Woll, the president of the Engravers' Union in a union insurance firm. So altogether, it is plain that if the old boy has ever done anything for "labor," then "labor" has done at least as much for him and his.

Well, there was blood on the moon after that publication because here was the royal family, all in civilian clothes, in war time, all on the union pay-roll and all sitting back after a sumptuous loading, presumably at the expense of the rank and file, in an expensive hotel in Washington.

The old boy, with a circulation of 900,000 at his disposal used that circulation to taunt his 900,000 poor, faceless slob, collectively known as the common man, with a display of the royalty of the Tobins.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is a co-operative college?

A—It is one in which students alternate study with wage-earning. An example is Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O.

Q—Has a horse ever won the English Derby more than once?

A—No, because the English Derby is a race for 3-year-olds.

Q—Why do Buckingham Palace guards do the "slow march"?

A—The custom dates back to the time of Charles II, who used this method to determine whether or not all the guards were sober.

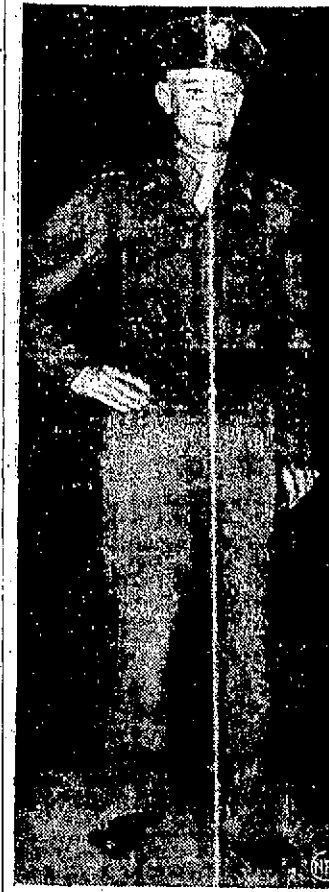

Q—Is the Apostles' Creed in the Bible?

A—No. It is an authorized statement of the doctrines of faith in the Christian Church. The Apostles' Creed in its present form was known in the fourth century.

Q—What time is considered most desirable for broadcasting a program?

A—The most desirable time for commercial programs is between 7 and 10:30 p. m.

Chelsea, Mass., June 15 (AP)—A 14-year-old youth today anxiously awaited the first view of a daughter born to his 14-year-old bride in Chelsea Memorial Hospital. The proud father, William Mitchell, will be just old enough to meet the maternity ward's age requirements. Visitors must be at least 14. Dr. Barnett H. Rosenfeld, who delivered the six-pound, ten-ounce baby, said mother and daughter were doing well. Hospital attaches reported the mother was one of the youngest in the institution's history. The couple was married more than a year ago.

Bipartisan Aid for Marshall Plan Meets Different Situation From Greek-Turkish Program

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, July 15.—President Truman has lost the bipartisan support he expected to have for the Marshall Plan.

There is every indication that a majority in Congress, composed of both Republicans and Democrats, would not vote billions for Europe just because the administration asked for it. A repetition of the situation which prevailed when the request for Greek-Turkish aid of about $400,000,000 was made cannot be expected.

The truth is, Mr. Truman has bungled badly his relations with Congress, and the facts about the situation have been slow to come to the surface. Few members of Congress like to say now what they would not vote for, but the Marshall Plan has little chance at the present time.

This may be one reason why the White House announced there would be no special session in the autumn. The President probably realizes that he could not count as good a case for aid to Europe this year as he might next year.

There may or may not be a relationship between Mr. Truman's veto policies and what has happened on Capitol Hill to his foreign policy. But there is a noticeable coolness toward further authorization of money and a tendency to require that existing funds be made to carry further along, perhaps until well into next year before more funds are voted.

The attitude of the majority in Congress seems to have developed into a "show-me" position. The administration has not yet shown what the Marshall Plan embraces. This is presumed to be because the Europeans themselves have not outlined what they can do on their own and what they really need.

In any event, any idea that Congress will vote vast sums for Europe aid is wholly mistaken. If the Europeans came up with a program that is convincing, members of both parties in Congress will find themselves compelled to help it along, but this will be because of the facts presented from Europe and not because of any confidence in the Truman administration's arguments.

Secretary of State Marshall stands high in the esteem of members of both parties. He nevertheless represents the Truman administration, which, in the opinion of many senators and representatives, has been getting on badly with the veto power and hence is likely to be treated on a political basis hereafter with respect to all requests for money.

Truman May Veto Tax Bill Friday

Republican Backers Refuse to Concede Defeat of Measure

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The White House said today President Truman's message vetoing the new $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill will be sent to Congress this week—probably on Friday.

In advance of final congressional action on the Republican measure, Mr. Truman had given notice that he intended to reject it as he had a previous, similar bill. He also gave assurances that the veto would be forthcoming promptly after he received the legislation.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, in discussing plans for the veto message, told reporters that the bill is expected to reach the White House some time during the day.

The possibility of putting the bill into law over Mr. Truman's veto has virtually disappeared despite the 60 to 32 vote by which it passed the Senate yesterday. Although this gave tax cut advocates a 23-vote margin, it fell two votes shy of the two-thirds needed to override presidential rejection.

With the Senate membership now 95, those 32 "nay" votes would be sufficient to prevent enactment. And the administration is counting on another sure vote with the scheduled return of Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) today from an international conference in Switzerland.

Refused to Concede
Republican backers of the bill refused to concede defeat.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.), manager of the bill, told reporters there still is "a fighting chance." Senator Taft of Ohio, the Republican Policy Committee chairman, held that there is "a possibility yet of passing it over the veto."

The bill probably will not actually reach the White House until late today or tomorrow. Mr. Truman's assurances, to congressional leaders that he intends to act promptly may mean that both Houses will get a chance at overriding the veto.

It will go first to the House, which passed the bill a week ago today by a vote of 302 to 112.

The current measure is identical with the one Mr. Truman killed last month except that it would take effect next Jan. 1 instead of July 1, 1947. It provides tax cuts ranging from 30 per cent in the lowest income range to 10.5 per cent at the top. All attempts to amend the duplicate measure failed.

Forty-eight Republicans and 12 Democrats voted for the bill on final passage. The 30 Democrats opposing it were joined by two Republican senators, Morris of Oregon and Langer of North Dakota.

hind his program in order to insure its approval by Congress next year, with prompt responses of support from Republicans and Democrats.

Marshall said there is "no blinking the fact that this country now stands at a turning point in its relations to its traditional friends among the nations of the Old World."

"Either it must finish the task of assisting these countries to adjust themselves to the changed demands of a new age," he declared, "or it must reconcile itself to seeing them move in directions which are consistent neither with their own traditions nor with those of this country."

"In this latter case," he asserted, "the United States would be faced with a radical alteration of its own position in the world. I ask you to consider most carefully the implication of such a development for the future prosperity and security of our country."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York Republican, declined any comment, but Gov. Earl Warren, California Republican, said that Marshall's proposal for a "course of action fully consistent with our own national interests" constitutes "a very sound approach to the international situation."

Gov. Mon Wallgren, Washington Democrat and close personal friend of President Truman, told a reporter that he fully endorses Marshall's statement.

"It calls our shots, as I see it," Wallgren said. "I am satisfied that the whole country is behind Marshall's plan to do everything we can, within justifiable bounds, to help rebuild these European nations and keep them out of the hands of the Communists."

Gov. James H. Duff, Pennsylvania Republican, said he is in accord with Marshall's program, as he interprets it.

"If Secretary Marshall means that we must help these European countries to help themselves, I am fully in accord with that idea," Duff said. "We must keep away from the role in Europe. It didn't work here and it won't work there."

"But by helping the European nations to retain democracy we will be acting as much for their benefit as for ours."

Before Marshall's speech, two prospective rivals for the Republican presidential nomination—Warren and Dewey—expressed clashing views on taxation.

Dewey, presiding at a round-table discussion of fiscal policy, advocated a division of sources of tax revenues between the federal government and states in order to eliminate overlapping, duplication and confusion.

He suggested that the income taxation be left entirely to the federal government and, in return, that Washington relinquish to the states exclusive rights to levy so-called nuisance taxes.

Warren said he believed in the "principle" of delegation of fields of taxation but argued it would not work in practice.

"If the states should abandon the income and sales taxes," he said, "and in turn receive liquor, luxury, amusement and gasoline taxes, the states would be putting themselves on an insecure basis, since they would be dependent upon the rise and fall of income from luxury items. That would be a dangerous thing."

He attacked specifically a proposal endorsed by some eastern governors that the federal government abandon its gasoline tax so that the states might pre-empt that field.

It probably would spell the end of federal aid for highways, he said, and injure many western states, which receive more in highway aid than they pay in gasoline taxes. California is not among them.

Warren and Dewey talked privately after the seminar. They said they did not discuss politics.

A round-table on education opens the second day's business sessions of the conference today with Gov. Clarence W. Meadows of West Virginia presiding.

in strikes was one-half of one per cent of total working time.

Miss Donlon told the delegates that 378,155 industrial accidents were reported in the first six months of this year, an increase of 42,458 over the number for the same period in 1946, a record year.

There were 718 fatal accidents in the first six months of 1947, compared with 722 up to July 1, last year, she said.

"Unless there is marked improvement in safety between now and the end of the year, it seems likely that industrial accidents will reach again a new high," she said. "Accidents are on the increase again all over the state."

"There is urgent need for active union and shop committees to help prevent accidents by making workers safety conscious. It is not enough to focus effort on the benefits available to industrially disabled workers, important as that is. Even more important both to the workers themselves and to national production essential for national prosperity is the elimination of avoidable disabling accidents."

Humphrey Hails

tion which creates a balance of supply and demand is the only sure cure for the increasing wage and price spiral.

Humphrey said the contract reverts inflation by avoiding a strike and all of the resulting damage that would surely follow from a deadlock.

Humphrey testified after Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the committee that the nation should be able to absorb this year's "second round" wage without going on an inflationary spree.

The N.A.M. head also declared that the key to continued economic growth and prosperity is a united effort for greater production, plus tax cuts to provide "venture capital" for expansion of industry by 600,000 new jobs a year.

Says Prices Are High

"Prices are high, as compared to pre-war, but the increase has been less than the rise of wages and during the last four months the price level has definitely flattened out," Bunting said in a statement prepared for the joint committee on the economic report.

"We yet have to see the full effects on prices of the current round of wage increases. But if we can keep production and productive efficiency moving forward, we should be able to hold this potential price rise from getting out of hand."

Bunting said he considered it "amazing" that the death of O.P.A. a year ago "has resulted in such moderate price increases." In view of cost increases, he added, "I believe that manufacturers' prices have been kept well in line."

But the N.A.M. chief forecast that "the wage increases recently granted the coal miners will be reflected in increased costs of manufactured products and of transportation."

Committee members waited with some curiosity for another of the day's witnesses, George M. Humphrey, Pittsburgh steelman and coalman. They looked for a possible reply to President's Truman's plea yesterday that the coal and steel industries refrain from immediate price increases arising from the new coal wage agreement.

Conducts Negotiations

Along with Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel Corporation, Humphrey conducted the secret negotiations with John L. Lewis which led to unprecedented gains for 475,000 United Mine Workers and aroused

White House fears of a new inflationary whirl.

Humphrey is chairman of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, world's largest commercial coal firm, and president of M. A. Hanna Corporation, steel manufacturer. The coal concern already has announced it will increase prices.

Bunting advocated adoption of a tax program, which the N.A.M. already has presented to Congress, providing for a top-to-bottom overhaul of the tax structure and lopping $7,000,000,000 off the national tax bill. This would permit business to accumulate the savings needed for capital investment, he said.

"The accumulated investment of new capital and the replacement of worn-out and obsolete machinery and equipment—have enabled us to increase the output of workers," Bunting said.

"This also has enabled us to increase real wages and raise the general standard of living of our people."

He said Americans have every reason to look to the future with confidence.

"Wages and employment are the highest in American history," he noted. "Production steadily is rising and, equally important, it is becoming better balanced."

this winter with that dangerous road condition as they did last winter.

Athens, July 15 (AP)—Air Minister Panayotis Canellopoulos announced today that "the situation has radically changed in favor of national forces" in Epirus, where Greek Army troops were reported snapping a pincer on strong guerrilla units driving south on the key city of Ioannina (Janina). Army sources said two important engagements with guerrilla columns were imminent in northwestern Greece. The government charged that the guerrillas had "invaded" Greek soil from Albania. Informants close to the Greek General staff said a new "invasion" was possible from the direction of Yugoslavia.

New York, July 15 (Special)—The late Frank Marsden London, of Woodstock and New York, who was an active member of the Woodstock Art Association, left an estate valued at $107,266 gross, $89,179 net, according to a report Monday of the State Transfer Tax Department here.

The entire estate, including real estate in Woodstock appraised at $9,000, goes to his widow, Mrs. Augusta Johnson London, of New York.

Mr. London, a painter specializing largely in pictures of still-life and well known as a designer of stained glass, died March 10, 1945, of a heart attack at his home here, 817 East 51st Street. He was 68 years old.

A native of Pittsboro, N. C., and educated at the University of North Carolina, Mr. London designed the stained glass windows of the Belmont Chapel of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. He was a member of the original Whitney Studio Club and also belonged to the Federation of Modern Painters and Sculptors.

Firemen Fail to Find Fire or Even Smoke

Local firemen, answered a call early yesterday afternoon to 55 Gill street, temporarily discredited the theory that where there's smoke there's fire.

The alarm was sent in when neighbors of the occupants of the building, which is owned by Thomas Ortel, saw smoke coming from an alley and the basement of the structure.

Firemen made a tour of the entire area and saw no fire nor apparent cause for smoke in the neighborhood.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, in another investigation today, however, learned it was possible that the smoke, which caused the alarm, might have backed up in a kitchen range in the building.

The firemen were called again at 6:35 p. m. to Washington avenue and Janet street, where an electric wire was reported burning. The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company was notified and its workmen repaired a line which had developed a short circuit.

Truman May Veto Tax Bill Friday

Republican Backers Refuse to Concede Defeat of Measure

Washington, July 13 (AP)—The White House said today President Truman's message vetoing the new $4,000,000,000 income tax reduction bill will be sent to Congress this week—probably on Friday.

hind his program in order to insure its approval by Congress next year met with prompt responses of support from Republicans and Democrats.

Marshall said there is "no blinking the fact that this country now stands at a turning point in its relations to its traditional friends among the nations of the Old World."

"Either it must finish the task of assisting these countries to adjust themselves to the changed demands of a new age," he declared, "or it must reconcile itself to seeing them move in directions which are consistent neither with their own traditions nor with those of this country."

"In this latter case," he asserted, "the United States would be faced with a radical alteration of its own position in the world. I ask you to consider most carefully the implication of such a development for the future prosperity and security of our country."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York Republican, declined any comment, but Gov. Earl Warren, California Republican, said that Marshall's proposal for a "course of action fully consistent with our own national interests" constitutes a very sound approach to the international situation.

Gov. Mon Wallgren, Washington Democrat and close personal friend of President Truman, told a reporter that he fully endorses Marshall's statement.

"It calls our shots, as I see it," Wallgren said. "I am satisfied that the whole country is behind Marshall's plan to do everything we can, within justifiable bounds, to help rebuild these European nations and keep them out of the hands of the Communists."

Gov. James H. Duff, Pennsylvania Republican, said he is in accord with Marshall's program, as he interprets it.

"If Secretary Marshall means that we must help these European countries to help themselves, I am fully in accord with that idea," Duff said. "We must keep away from the role of Europe. It didn't work here and it won't work there."

"But by helping the European nations to retain democracy we will be acting as much for their benefit as for ours."

Before Marshall's speech, two prospective rivals for the Republican presidential nomination, Warren and Dewey, expressed clashing views on taxation.

Dewey, presiding at a round-table discussion of fiscal policy, advocated a division of sources of tax revenues between the federal government and states in order to eliminate overlapping, duplication and confusion.

He suggested that the income taxation be left entirely to the federal government and, in return, that Washington relinquish to the states exclusive rights to levy so-called nuisance taxes.

Warren said he believed in the "principle" of delimitation of fields of taxation but argued it would not work in practice.

"If the states should abandon the income and sales taxes," he said, "and in turn receive liquor, luxury, amusement and gasoline taxes, the states would be putting themselves on an insecure basis, since they would be dependent upon the rise and fall of income from luxury items. That would be a dangerous thing."

He attacked specifically a proposal endorsed by some eastern governors that the federal government abandon the gasoline tax so that the states might pre-empt that field.

It probably would spell the end of federal aid for highways, he said, and injure many western states, which receive more in highway aid than they pay in gasoline taxes. California is not among them.

Warren and Dewey talked privately after the seminar. They said they did not discuss politics.

A round-table on education opens the second day's business of the conference today, with Gov. Clarence W. Meadows of West Virginia presiding.

in strikes was one-half of one per cent of total working time.

Miss Donlon told the delegates that 378,155 industrial accidents were reported in the first six months of this year, an increase of 42,458 over the number for the same period in 1946, a record year.

There were 718 fatal accidents in the first six months of 1947, compared with 722 up to July 1 last year, she said.

"Unless there is marked improvement in safety between now and the end of the year, it seems likely that industrial accidents will reach again a new high," she said. "Accidents are on the increase again all over the state."

"There is urgent need for active union and shop committees to help prevent accidents by making workers safety conscious. It is not enough to focus effort on the benefits available to industrially disabled workers, important as that is. Even more important, both to the workers themselves and to national production essential for national prosperity, is the elimination of avoidable disabling accidents."

Humphrey Hails

tion, which creates a balance of supply and demand is the only sure cure for the increasing wage and price spiral."

Humphrey said the contract retards inflation "by avoiding a strike and all of the resulting damage that would surely follow from a deadlock."

Humphrey testified after Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the committee that the nation should be able to absorb this year's "second round" wage without going on an inflationary spree.

The N.A.M. head also declared that the key to continued economic growth and prosperity is a united effort for greater production, plus tax cuts to provide "venture capital" for expansion of industry, by 600,000 new jobs a year.

Says Prices Are High
"Prices are high, as compared to pre-war, but the increase has been less than the rise of wages and during the last four months the price level has definitely flattened out," Bunting said in a statement prepared for the joint committee on the economic report.

"We yet have to see the full effects on prices of the current round of wage increases. But if we can keep production and productive efficiency moving forward, we should be able to hold this potential price rise from getting out of hand."

Bunting said he considered it "amazing" that the death of O.P.A. a year ago "has resulted in such moderate price increases." In view of cost increases, he added, "I believe that manufacturers' prices have been kept well in line."

But the N.A.M. chief forecast that "the wage increases recently granted the coal miners will be reflected in increased costs of manufactured products and of transportation."

Committee members waited with some curiosity for another of the day's witnesses, George M. Humphrey, Pittsburgh steelman and coalman. They looked for a possible reply to President's Truman's plea yesterday that the coal and steel industries refrain from immediate price increases arising from the new coal wage agreement.

Conducts Negotiations
Along with Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel Corporation, Humphrey conducted the secret negotiations with John L. Lewis which led to unprecedented gains for 475,000 United Mine Workers, and aroused

White House fears of a new inflationary whirl.

Humphrey is chairman of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company, world's largest commercial coal firm, and president of M. A. Hanna Corporation, steel manufacturer. The coal concern already has announced it will increase prices.

Bunting advocated adoption of a tax program, which the N.A.M. already has presented to Congress, providing for a top-to-bottom overhaul of the tax structure and lopping $7,000,000,000 off the national tax bill. This would permit business to accumulate the saving needed for capital investment, he said.

"The accumulated investment of new capital and the replacement of worn-out and obsolete equipment—in the form of plants, machinery and equipment—have enabled us to increase the output of workers," Bunting said.

"This also has enabled us to increase real wages and raise the general standard of living of our people."

He said Americans have every reason to look to the future with confidence.

"Wages and employment are the highest in American history," he noted. "Production steadily is rising and, equally important, it is becoming better balanced."

this winter with that dangerous road condition as they did last winter.

"The State Highway Department is now drawing up plans and buying rights-of-way for the construction of their three-mile stretch in the near future, but in the meantime let us have some cooperation from the towns until such time as the state starts the Road project."

Says Situation Changes
At Athens, July 13 (AP)—Air Minister Panayotis Canelopoulos announced today that "the situation has radically changed in favor of national forces" in Epirus, where Greek Army troops were reported snapping at pincers on strong guerrilla units driving south on the key city of Ioannina (Janina). Army sources said two important engagements with guerrilla columns were imminent in northwestern Greece. The government charged that the guerrillas had "invaded" Greek soil from Albania. Informants close to the Greek General staff said a new "invasion" was possible from the direction of Yugoslavia.

New York, July 13 (Special)—The late Frank Marsden London, of Woodstock and New York, who was an active member of the Woodstock Art Association, left an estate valued at $107,266 gross, $89,179 net, according to a report Monday of the State Transfer Tax Department here.

The entire estate, including real estate in Woodstock appraised at $9,000, goes to his widow, Mrs. Augusta Johnson London, of New York.

Mr. London, a painter specializing largely in pictures of still-life and well known as a designer of stained glass, died March 10, 1946, of a heart attack at his home here, 317 East 51st Street. He was 63 years old.

A native of Pittsboro, N. C., and educated at the University of North Carolina, Mr. London designed the stained glass windows of the Belmont Chapel of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. He was a member of the original Whitney Studio Club and also belonged to the Federation of Modern Painters and Sculptors.

Firemen Fail to Find Fire or Even Smoke

Local firemen, answered a call early yesterday afternoon to 53 Gill street, temporarily discredited the theory that where there's smoke there's fire.

The alarm was sent in when neighbors of the occupants of the buildings, which is owned by Thomas Ortell, saw smoke coming from an alley and the basement of the structure.

Firemen made a tour of the entire area and saw no fire nor apparent cause for smoke in the neighborhood.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, in another investigation today, however, learned it was possible that the smoke, which caused the alarm, might have backed up in a kitchen range in the building.

The firemen were called again at 6:35 p. m. to Washington avenue and Janet street, where an electric wire was reported burning. The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company was notified and its workmen repaired a line which had developed a short circuit.

Expecting Too Much, Too Soon
(The Pantagraph, Bloomington, Ill.)

A little girl with a big dog knocked at a front door in Normal. She was selling Girl Scout cookies.

A small dog raced around the corner and attacked the girl's big dog ferociously. And the little girl broke up the fray with a hefty kick that sent the little dog away yelping.

"Well, I'm surprised that a Girl Scout would do a thing like that," said the housewife who had answered the doorbell.

With tiny nose upturned and the proper amount of indignation, the child said:

"I'm only a Brownie."

General Ice Cream Division Manager In 25-Year Club

James M. Ormsby of Poughkeepsie will attend the inauguration of the 25-Year Club of the General Ice Cream Corporation, producers of Sealtest Ice Cream, to be held in Schoenectady, home of the general offices on July 16. Mr. Ormsby is division manager for Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston plants of the corporation, and becomes eligible for membership in the 25-Year Club with a record of 32 years' service. General Ice Cream has many employees eligible for membership in the 25-Year Club. Each year hereafter the club will meet to receive into membership employees who have reached the 25-year mark. Each member will receive an inscribed Hamilton watch as a token of appreciation from the corporation, a gold emblem indicating his 25 years of service, a certificate of membership in the 25-year group, a pocket-size card reproduction of this certificate and booklet containing the names and starting dates of all 25 year veterans.

Mr. Ormsby is a veteran of World War I. He came to the Hudson Valley in 1922 as the first manager of the Newburgh plant. In 1932 he took over the management of the added business acquired with the purchase of the Rogers Ice Cream Company in Poughkeepsie. In 1935 the Olivet Ice Cream business of Kingston was acquired by General Ice Cream Corporation and came under the management of Mr. Ormsby. These three plants: Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston, distributing Sealtest Ice Cream throughout the Hudson valley, were consolidated as a division under Mr. Ormsby's management. Also eligible for charter membership from this division and attending the meeting with Mr. Ormsby is Frank Amato of the Kingston plant. Mr. Amato has a length of service credit of 33 years.

Stunning Slip Cover Makes Old Chair New

What to do with chairs that are so shabby to keep on using, too good to discard? Give them a new lease on life with stunning slip covers. It's simple—and inexpensive—to make your own!

No pattern or special equipment necessary. All you need are scissors, needle, thread, lot of pins—and the fabric, of course. Begin by smoothing the fabric, wrong side out, over the inside back and seat of your chair. Allow 4-inch tuck-in between back and seat to relieve strain.

Now anchor the fabric to the chair by pinning every 2 inches where seams will be. Cut, leaving 1 1/4-inch seam allowance.

Similarly, you pin and cut the front (or "apron"), arms, sides and back. Baste the pieces together; put them back on chair for final fitting; stitch.

If you can read, you can make your slip covers by following the directions in our Reader Service booklet No. 35. Step-by-step, illustrated instructions for making many types of covers.

Send 25c (coin) for "Making Slip Covers Successfully" to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Reader Service, 243 West 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print name, address with zone, booklet title and No. 35.

Saucer Comes Down to Earth; 'Irate Reader' Has 'Sample'

Someone with a sense of bringing things down to earth forwarded to the Freeman a version of the flying saucer which might have come from an area antique shop.

The ruse, it appears, was less inventive than the satirical composition of a letter which accompanied it and the initials "J. S." and "U. N." on the wooden saucer undoubtedly allude to the recent statement of former Assemblyman Millard Davis, who said the flying saucers out his way carried such initials, referring to Joseph Stalin and the United Nations.

The package with the local version of the flying disc was addressed to the editor of the Freeman and was received in a recent mail delivery.

The saucer, it appears, has left some flower pot or table lamp without customary support. It is about eight inches in diameter and rather badly touched with aluminum paint, probably to convey the idea that it belongs among things celestial.

The letter tersely presenting its alleged history follows:

"Dear Ed:
While replacing the shingles on the roof of our house on Emerson St. we found this missile wedged underneath the old shingles. I am sure it is the same object that Mr. Davis sighted over Kerkonkson, as is evidenced by the initials. We soaked it in a pail of water for an hour, so it should be safe. However, we do not wish to be responsible for any mishaps which may result from trying to disassemble the strange object, so we will remain anonymous. We sincerely hope that this will remove all skepticism connected with the celestial crockery" talks. After you have satisfied yourself that your readers have not been over-observant, I suggest that you turn the evidence over to the F.B.I.

Strikes, Lockouts Less Than in 1946 Period

Washington, July 15 (AP) — Strikes and lockouts in the first six months of this year cost only about one-fourth of the time lost in the same period of 1946.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said today that about 2,200 work stoppages — including strikes by workers and lockouts by employers — occurred from January to June. These involved about 1,560,000 employees and resulted in the loss of between 20,000,000 and 21,000,000 man-days.

During the same six months of 1946, when labor-management controversies reached a postwar peak, almost 3,000,000 workers were directly involved and the idleness ran to nearly 89,000,000 man-days.

J. Dugan of 58 Brewster street, Kingston, has enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps for a three-year period. Pvt. Dugan is a recent graduate of Kingston High School and prior to entering in the Marine Corps was employed at the Bull Market of Kingston. He is now en route to Parris Island, S. Television Sets on Sale in This Area

Long strides toward the development of television in this area have been taken by the R. T. A. Distributors, Inc., which recently showed the complete line of R.C.A. Victor television home receivers to local dealers at a demonstration in Newburgh. Four different models are now being offered to the public, bringing television closer to reality here with a service planned to reach many thousands of homes.

At the demonstration, quality of manufactures was emphasized. It was stated that these sets would produce brighter, clearer, steadier pictures due to postwar technical advances in receiver design and care in selecting fire components. The quality of the picture tube was one point stressed, the tubes being a type which creates a concentrated, well-defined pencil-like line in describing the pictures on the screen. These tubes also permit use of a greater power, resulting in brighter pictures. An interesting new development in receiver design is a special circuit which holds the picture steady and which protects the broadcast's reception from excessive interference by outside electronic forces such as diathermy or auto ignitions. This results in steadier pictures, giving observer brighter, clearer, steadier pictures of "eye witness" quality.

An innovation for the television industry known as the "R.C.A." Victor Owner Policy" was announced. For the first time in the history of television a manufacturer, for a reasonable fee, will provide complete installation and guaranteed performance for one full year. Installations only will be completed where a signal equal to or better than that outlined by the F. C. C. as being suitable consistent reception is received.

Maverick Players
To Give Milne's
Play Wednesday

Woodstock, July 15—The Maverick Players, talented young actors who have presented three successful plays thus far this season, will present Wednesday night at 8:45 A. A. Milne's production, Mr. Pim Passes By, at the Maverick Theatre.

The play will continue through Sunday.

The presentation will be directed by Leonard Heech, a staff member of the American National Theatre and Academy. Mr. Heech has been active in the theatre since 1931 when he started as stage manager and actor with the Auditorium Players in Rochester. Since then his activities have been nationwide and he is credited with many excellent productions.

Those who will be seen in Mr. Pim will be James Doohan as George Marden; Jeanne Jerroms as Olivia Marden; William Major, Mr. Pim; Kenneth Faine, Bryan Stranger; Terry Green, Dinah; Priscilla Amidon, Lady Marden; Eloise Illit, Anne, Stage manager for this play will be Harding LeMay. William Pitkin has designed the scenes.

Directors at the Maverick Theatre this year have been important. Paul Morrison, who directed Roundside and Thunder Rock, is considered one of the most outstanding and he will present The Maverick Players in other productions this season. Margaret Barker, who created Seventh Heaven, came from California for that purpose and now may be seen on stage in Baltimore, her home city, in No Exit, in which she opened this week.

A sketch from Mr. Pim will be presented over WKNY Thursday afternoon.

Wittenberg Mill
Carries on Work
Begin Century Ago

Woodstock, July 15—Old families and old mills in communities become social and industrial landmarks, but when they remain in economic relationship to each other for more than 100 years they become traditions.

And that is the history of the old Wittenberg mill at the junction of the Mt. Tremper and Yonkers roads in Woodstock township.

Then, to add a fine point of natural resources to the picture, it must be remembered that the mill is powered by waters dammed in the pond adjoining. Occasionally when water is low, an engine is used to turn the saws. Otherwise, the streams which flow from the mountains are impounded in the Shultis pond.

The Shultis family in Wittenberg is as American as the way of life their ancestors helped to establish in one of the most untouched sections of the eastern United States. At one time there were 17 families bearing the name Shultis in Wittenberg. They still are strong in numbers and are a distinct community asset.

Established by Philip Shultis

The old mill at Wittenberg, known also as the barrelhead mill after the hundreds of thousands of hoghead tops turned out there, was established more than 100 years ago by Philip Shultis. Today it is operated by his great grandson, Nelson Shultis, who is producing hundreds of thousands of feet of rich Catskill mountain lumber. Still an active member in the mill's operation is Burt Shultis, who is nearly 75 years old. Burt Shultis is a grandson of the founder.

During an inspection tour of the Shultis mill, some very interesting comparisons were drawn regarding the methods of a by-gone era with those of today, one of the most important perhaps being that of a single blade saw in use 75 to 100 years ago with the circular saw of today. Nelson Shultis offered the information that saving 500 feet of lumber with the single blade operation was considered an unusually good day's work. Today 5,000 feet is more apt to be the figure. An example of modern equipment to speed up operations is the use of a tractor as a replacement for the oxen formerly utilized for drawing logs from the woods. Another device to speed up operation is the gasoline chain saw. Prior to this acquisition, the trees were felled by hand.

Also Have Shingle Machine

The saw mill is also equipped with a shingle machine, cut-off saw (for cutting off chunks), surface planer and molder, the latter having different heads for variations. The lane mill is equipped for handling timbers 35 feet long. It is doubtful if many of the ladies wearing the popular wedgies, realize that the heels are generally made from maple. According to Nelson Shultis, this is one of the best markets, for maple.

During the war the biggest demand at the mill was for hard wood, while now the reverse is true and soft wood is in greatest demand for construction of homes. Contrary to general belief, Nelson remarked that while it is necessary to use dry lumber for the finishing work in a house, green lumber is perfectly satisfactory for the other work such as floor timbers, ceiling timbers, joists. Such lumber was used in his house which was built 32 years ago and it is as good as ever. For drying lumber, Nelson recommended it be in the kiln no less than a week. Frequently people in a hurry use lumber which has been in the kiln only 24 to 48 hours, and find to their sorrow that it is very costly.

All local timber is used at the Shultis mill, the most popular types being pine, hemlock, oak and maple. The owners' program consists of cutting most of the logs in the Fall and Winter months and sawing them during the Spring and Summer.

Great Respect for Uncle Nelson has great respect for his Uncle Burt's ability. He said that it took a man with much more ability to keep the old saw in shape than it does for the new ones. The teeth in the newer type saw are replaceable, but one set will saw about 45,000 feet of lumber when clean logs are used.

With the old up and down saw, the teeth had to be very carefully filed. Burt Shultis, whose particular job for 45 years was to operate the lane mill and circular saw, now does only light work around the mill but in an emergency, he can fit in anywhere. Chiefly, nowadays, he does the filing and belt repair work.

Each Was Given Farm

W. C. Shultis had four sons and five daughters. When Philip, the founder of the mill, retired, his son W. C. took over and when his four sons were old enough, they had their place in the mill setup. As each one of the four sons married, they were given their own farm to operate. These farms are located on land adjoining the mill in Wittenberg. Burt, the only son living today, resides with Mrs. Shultis in their farm homestead. Mr. Shultis likes to reminisce about earlier days on the farm when they had three of the best yoke of oxen money could buy. In those days too they had many cows, chickens and pigs, but they have had to cut down considerably on the heavy work of the farm in recent years.

Mrs. Everand Short, postmistress in Wittenberg, is the only one of W. C.'s five daughters still living.

Power for the mill is obtained by the use of a water power bulk head, drawing the water from the Wittenberg Pond through an enclosed turbine. Instead of using the old fashioned water wheel, the present raceway being used was built in 1909.

Burt Shultis and his nephew, Nelson, take great pride in continuing the business taken over by their ancestors many years ago, when saw mills were numerous in that vicinity. Today, however, the W. C. Shultis Sons' mill is one of the very few remaining.

Pianist Makes Her
American Debut at Maverick Concert

Woodstock, July 15—Madame Jacqueline Marcault, eminent French concert pianist, was introduced by Pierre Henrotte to 200 or more music lovers on Sunday afternoon at the Maverick Concert Hall, Woodstock. This was Madame Marcault's first appearance on the American concert stage and her brilliant performance indicated that it will not be her last.

In the first half of the program, the seldom heard Brahms Trio, opus 114, in A Minor was skillfully played with the accomplished Inez Carpi Richards at the piano, Bruce Currie, clarinet, and Hans Cohn, cello.

Piano solos by Jacqueline Marcault included Bach, Partita in G Major; Scarlatti, Suite in G Major; Hoggner, Prelude, Aria and Fugue; Debussy, Three Preludes; and Ravel, Sanatine, Bruyeres, General Lavine eccentric, and Les Tierses Alternees.

Inez Richards will again be heard with Pierre Henrotte and Horace Britt at the Maverick Concert Hall Sunday.

June Milk Price
Lower This Year in Metropolitan Area

New York, July 15 (AP)—The 46,280 dairymen who produced milk for the New York city metropolitan area last month will receive $3.50 a hundredweight for their June deliveries, C. J. Blanford, administrator for the metropolitan milk marketing area, announced last night.

The June price is 69 cents below the June, 1946, return. Last year the uniform price was $3.64 which was boosted to $4.19 by a minimum subsidy payment of 55 cents, no longer paid.

Although there were 1,502 fewer producers delivering milk to the 431 pool-approved plants serving the area last month than there were a year earlier, their average daily production had increased to 453 pounds and the total production was 870,239,90 pounds compared with 652,032,333 in June, 1946, a gain of 2.79 per cent. The per-farm production was the highest since the federal-state marketing program was established Blanford said.

Consumption of fluid milk in the area, embracing New York city, Westchester, Nassau, and Suffolk counties, continued to decline for the fifth straight month and was 7.63 per cent below June of last year. On the other hand, the volume of milk used in fluid cream in the marketing area was up 11,643,621 pounds, or 25.40 per cent, to 57,479,522 pounds, accounting for 8.59 per cent of the month's total milk output.

Milk sold as fluid milk or cream demands a better price than milk used in making ice cream, candy and in other manufacturing and tends to lift the uniform, or blend, price that the farmer receives for his output.

Woodstock Man Faces
Hearing Before Justice

John Freer, 47, of Woodstock, was arrested early this morning by Deputy William Frost, of the sheriff's office, on a charge of assault, third degree. The complaint was registered by Freer's wife and the warrant for the arrest was signed by Justice of the Peace Joseph Fitzsimmons.

Arraigned before Justice Fitzsimmons, Freer was remanded to the county jail in default of a $50 bail pending a hearing scheduled for 7:30 this evening at Woodstock before Justice Fitzsimmons.

Charged With Recklessness

John Sellers, 37, of Marlborough, was slated to face hearing on a reckless driving charge, following his arrest at Beacon Sunday, it was learned today. Beacon and Fishkill police reported that they chased an automobile driven by Sellers through Beacon and Fishkill streets before he was apprehended. The Beacon police said Sellers had been turned over to Fishkill police for questioning and was due later to face hearing on the charge.

Tomatoes Ideal in Hot Weather

Deviled tomatoes for a one-dish summer luncheon

By GAYNOR MADDIX

NEA Staff Writer

Tomatoes, ripe and rosy and fresh from the vine, please everyone. Here are three new recipes to glorify them for hot-weather meals.

Deviled Tomatoes

(Serves 6)

Six tomatoes, 1/2 cup French dressing, 1 egg, 1/2 cup cracker crumbs, 3 tablespoons homemade or genuine commercial mayonnaise, chopped parsley.
Slice tomatoes into a casserole, cover with French dressing and chill in refrigerator an hour or two. Pour off dressing, mix with egg. Lift out tomatoes and arrange alternately with crumbs. Pour dressing and egg mixture over. Set casserole in pan of water. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Spoon mayonnaise on top tomato slices and continue cooking another 5 or 10 minutes or until set. Garnish with parsley.
"Just a Minute," a brand-new cookbook of quick cookery, makes these suggestions:

Broiled Tomatoes with Curry

(Serves 4)

Eight small tomatoes, sugar, salt, pepper, butter, curry powder. Scoop out tops of tomatoes. Sprinkle with sugar, salt, pepper. Add 1/2 pat butter in each and sprinkle well with curry powder. Broil for 15 minutes.

Broiled Tomatoes and Mushrooms

(Serves 4)

Four large tomatoes, 8 large mushrooms, butter.
Cut tomatoes in half. Wash mushrooms and stem (save stems for future use). Drain well and put tomatoes and mushrooms cup side up in broiler. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and dot with butter. Broil for about 15 minutes. Before serving, put mushrooms cup side down on tomatoes and place under flame for a minute.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, scrambled eggs, toasted English muffins, butter or fortified margarine, new grape jelly, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, garden vegetables in cheese sauce on toast rounds, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, stewed fruit, peanut cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Pan-broiled chopped sirloin, broiled tomatoes with curry, mashed potatoes, buttered green peas, soft rolls, butter or fortified margarine, sliced peaches, cream, cookies, coffee, milk.

Ex-Navy Official Dead

New York, July 15 (AP)—Herbert L. Satterlee, 33, an attorney who served briefly as assistant secretary of the navy under President Theodore Roosevelt and who wrote the biography of his father-in-law, the senior J. Pierpont Morgan, was found dead of a gunshot wound late yesterday in his 17-room Beekman Place apartment. A butler found Satterlee's body in a half-filled bathtub. Dr. Milton Halpern, deputy chief medical examiner, said there was "no question" that Satterlee had shot himself in the head with a .38-caliber revolver that lay in the bathtub. The elderly, spade-bearded attorney had left two notes, one to the butler and the other to a friend whose name was not disclosed by police. Satterlee, in failing health, had lived in the duplex apartment with only servants since the death last October of his wife, Mrs. Louisa Pierpont Morgan Satterlee.

Variable Temperature

The temperature of ice varies. It takes on an approximate temperature of the air in which it is stored. The removal of a block of ice from a freezing icehouse to an outside warmer temperature warms it up.

Ceylon's annual tea harvest is estimated at 250,000,000 pounds.

What Recent Floods Cost Corn-Belt States

Worst hit was Iowa where 115,000,000 tons of topsoil washed away, and 15 per cent of corn crop was ruined.

Damage to cities and towns in Iowa, Illinois and Missouri alone was estimated at more than $17,000,000.

Damage to crops was estimated at over $225,000,000 in four states.

$300,000,000 worth of irreplaceable topsoil vanished as 3,000,000 acres flooded.

Record crests damaged 7261 farm and factory buildings; destroyed 263.

Sixteen persons were killed and 34,812 were made homeless in month of floods.

Flood waters, that held four states in terror for more than a month, have subsided. But Illinois, Iowa, Missouri and Nebraska will feel their effect for many months to come. Some of the costs of the flood are shown above, but the damage is not confined to that area. The feed corn shortage may result in higher priced meat and dairy products, bringing flood's costs home to every American.

THIS Automatic AGE

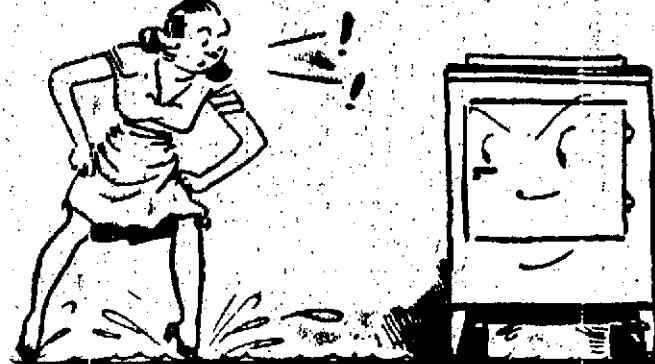

TODAY ... if an automobile salesman tried to sell you a car without a starter you'd think the guy was crazy.

... or would you be interested in a wind-up phonograph? Nope—you'll take an automatic record changer capable of playing 12 platters at a clip.

Then there's your furnace—wouldn't you settle for an automatic job rather than break your back shoveling coal and ashes? You bet your life you would!

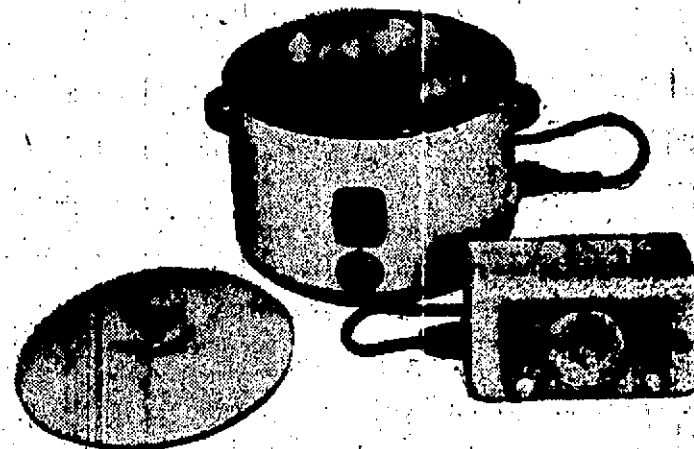

... and no one would give a plugged nickel for a drippy ice box if they had a choice between it and an automatic refrigerator.

Yes, indeed, we're living in an automatic age and people love all these things which mean less work.

Now, where kitchen work is concerned there are a couple of other low-cost automatic devices which can cut the heart out of kitchen cooking hours—the Electric Casserole and Electric Timer Clock! Team these two together and you have automatic electric cooking.

You want to go out somewhere in the afternoon, or to church on Sunday. All right, before you go, place your food in the casserole set the clock for heat on and heat off and forget about it. When you come home there's your food perfectly cooked, piping hot, ready to serve!

Local electrical appliance dealers will gladly give you full information about this new low-cost way of automatic cooking.

Commander of Legion Installed

Ellenville, July 14—Everett W. Coty, parole officer at the Napanoch Institution and a veteran of World War II, was installed commander of Cook-Taylor Post, American Legion, at the annual meeting the past week. He succeeds Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., commander the past year. Other officers installed were: Joseph Popp, Ben Cramer, Irving Smith, vice-commanders; LeRoy W. Sherwood, adjutant; Arthur T. Drew, financial adjutant; Robert DeGroot, treasurer; Henry I. Curman, historian; the Rev. Francis McGuire, chaplain; Raymond Eckert, sergeant-at-arms; Harold J. Spitzer, service officer; Clinton Fertich, director for five years. A steak supper preceded the business meeting.

Fire, supposed to have started from a gasoline engine, badly damaged the concrete block mulling machine of the Coughlin Block Co., Pantinekill Park, early last Monday morning. There also was some damage to the building. James Coughlin is the owner and operator of the plant.

10 4-H Members
To Attend Dairy
Judging at Delhi

Ten representatives of various Ulster county 4-H organizations will travel to Delhi Thursday by car where they will attend a two-day dairy judging contest in competition with approximately 200 representatives of other New York state county 4-H clubs.

Miss Margaret Brundage, assistant county 4-H club agent will be in charge of the group. She will be assisted by James Egan, Cornell agricultural student, currently headquartered in the county 4-H office, in conjunction with the Cornell college of agriculture's summer lend-lease program permitting selected students to assist county 4-H agents throughout the summer months.

The Delaware county 4-Hers will play host to the county groups, offering the facilities of Camp Shanganatuck to house the representatives.

The groups will tour various areas of Delaware county Friday, visiting some of the largest Holstein and Jersey farms in New York state. Friday noon they will lunch at the Delhi High School, where they will later meet the officials and judge a herd of Holsteins.

Better Than Specified
The Wright flyer biplane more than fulfilled specifications for its acceptance by the United States Army Air Forces in 1900, by staying aloft for an hour and 12 minutes, with an average speed of more than 40 miles per hour.

Early watches were too large to carry in the pocket and were usually hung from the girdle.

YES
MAN

My name is Kenneth Carter. I'm the "Yes" man at Personal Finance Co., that is—I'm the man who likes to say "Yes" to requests for Personal Loans.

You see—I'm the manager of our office—the man who's responsible for building up our business. The more times I say "Yes" to requests for loans—the more business we do. And since making Personal Loans of $25 to $250 or more is our ONLY business—that's mighty important to me.

Therefore, if you need extra cash at any time—whether a little for a short time or a lot for a long time—you can depend on my doing my best to say "Yes" to you.

Next time you can use a loan give me a chance to say "Yes"—won't you? I'll consider it a favor. SEE ME at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., of New York, 2nd floor, over Newberry's, 319 Wall St., or Phone me at Kingston 3470.

Open Monday, through Friday, 9 to 5. Closed Saturday. Loans made by mail in all surrounding towns.

Highway Users Ask Auto Tax Slash

Washington, July 15. (AP)—An end to all special federal taxation on autos was sought today in a petition filed with Congress by more than 400 national and state organizations of highway users.

The petition said such levies are "an unjust burden on the highway user." It was presented to the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance Committees by the National Highway Users Conference.

The special levies complained about include those on new motor vehicles and trailers, gasoline and oil, tires and tubes, and parts and accessories. They brought in revenues of more than $800,000,000 in 1946.

The petition said the levy on new cars alone adds a minimum of about $70 to the price of even a low-priced auto.

"By signing this petition," the conference statement said, "these organizations emphatically reject the theory that the general benefits to the nation of federal highway aid should be paid for by continued duplicate taxation of the highway user, rather than from general government receipts."

West Point was first occupied by troops during the U. S. Revolutionary war.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, July 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dauner and son, Eugene, and Mrs. James Tinnie visited Mrs. Donald Tinnie and son, Mack, at the Scout Camp Wendy, Walkill, Sunday. Mrs. Tinnie is unit leader of the Brownies' Group.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lane and son, David, and daughter, Kathleen of Maywood, N. J., and Mrs. Joseph Fennell of Jackson Heights, L. I., were week-end guests of the Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Stine at the Methodist parsonage.

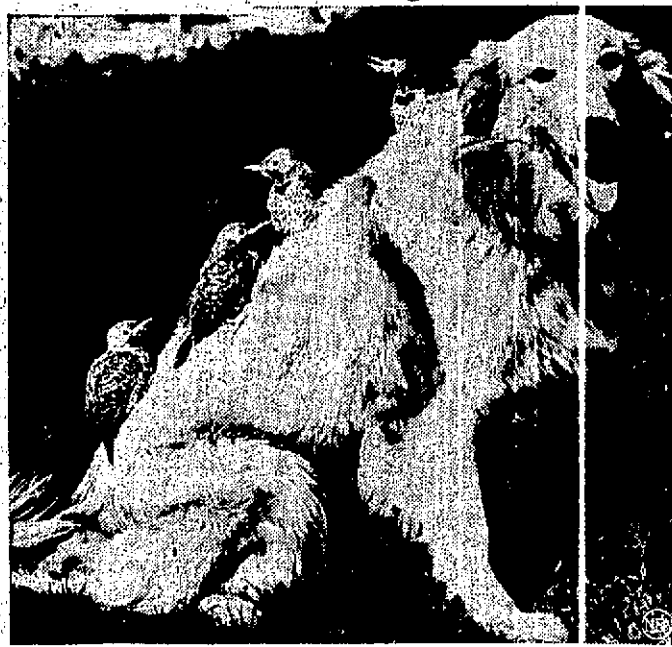

Albert Seibert of Hudson, who spent a few days with his mother, Mrs. W. Seibert, and sister, Miss Bertha Seibert, has returned home.

Mrs. J. Best, who was the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Markle, at their home in Oneonta for two weeks has returned home.

Esopus Council, 42, Sons of Daughters of Liberty, will meet at the Methodist Church house Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Deputy State Councilor, Bernice Louise Hart of Poughkeepsie will be present to install the officers for the ensuing year.

The Priscilla Society will sponsor a Stanley demonstration at the Methodist Church house Tuesday evening, July 29.

Here's one dog that loves to be a bird dog. Lassie, owned by Mrs. Leslie Zentgraf of Milwaukee, Wis., has made friends with these four-week-old baby flickers. The birds, found by the youngsters when helpless fledglings, live with Lassie in a box in Zentgraf yard.

Arctic Expedition Gets Started From Boston

Washington, July 15. (AP)—The Navy's summer expedition to the Arctic gets under way today with the departure from Boston of a three-vessel task force.

Headed by Capt. Robert S. Quackenbush, Jr., who was second in command of the recent South Pole expedition, the group will carry supplies, food and fuel to weather stations in the far north.

The first stop of the icebreaker Edisto and the two transports Wyandot and Whitewood will be at the weather station on Ellesmere island in Eureka sound.

A second station will be established this summer with the help of the expedition near winter harbor on Melville island.

The ships are expected to return to the United States in October.

Car Is Recovered

Mrs. Milton Bahl, 27 Prince street, who reported her husband's car stolen, recovered the vehicle on Cornell street Monday, shortly after she notified police headquarters. The car, she said, was taken between 10 p. m. Sunday and 6 a. m. Monday. She reported the theft later yesterday and subsequently came upon the auto near the plant of Kingsley Fashions.

Laundry, Beauty Final Hearing Is Slated for Friday

Final hearing in the matter of new minimum wage orders for the beauty service and laundry industries will be held by Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi at the state office building in Albany, Friday at 2 p. m.

The hearing will be the last such action prior to promulgation, by the industrial commissioner, of new wage orders in the two industries, based on recommendations to him by wage boards after several months study and investigation in each of the industries.

Troops Press Hunt

Jerusalem, July 15. (AP)—Troops pressed a house-to-house hunt today through curfew-stilled Natanaya in a search for two kidnapped British sergeants held as hostages for three condemned members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization. The search began yesterday after the imposition of military rule over Natanaya—Palestine diamond center—and the surrounding area. Nearly 14,000 persons were left without newspapers, mail, bus service or banks. Only essential telephone traffic was permitted and a military court was established to replace the civil courts.

Dog Gone

Chicago, July 15. (AP)—A plump little girl, about 12 years old, rapped on the front door of Miss Alma Anderson's south side home late yesterday. "I am going to be a girl scout—if I can do a good deed today," the girl to Miss Anderson. "Isn't there something I can do?" "Why bless your heart," said Miss Anderson, who was busy preparing the evening meal. "There's Spotty—he hasn't been outside all day. Here's his leash; take him for a walk around the block." "That was the last I've seen of Spotty and Miss Good Deed," Miss Anderson told police in reporting her 5-year-old fox hound was missing.

Sentenced to Jail

Harold Malik, 19, of 2380 Cresson avenue, Bronx, was arrested at Shandaken yesterday by State Police of the Highland barracks on charge of disorderly conduct. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace William C. Weyman, Shandaken, Malik was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail.

had to be moved to New York for hotel facilities.

However, we went back to Asbury Park last May for the first annual New Jersey Short Tournament. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hazen and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ehs of New York were one of the teams that tied for first place in the open team-of-four contest.

Today's hand was played by Hazen, sitting East. After the opening lead he saw that his contract was in no danger and decided to play for the maximum.

South was marked with the queen of diamonds by his opening lead. Hazen reasoned that if South had only a three or four card diamond suit, a diamond trick could be established for a club discard. If the hearts were divided 1-1, South was pretty well marked with the ace by his double.

The opening lead was won with dummy's ace of diamonds. Hazen discarding the deuce of spades. A small diamond from dummy was ruffed in his own hand, a club ruffed in dummy and another diamond ruffed by Hazen, which established dummy's ten and nine of diamonds. Another club was ruffed in dummy and the ten of diamonds led. Hazen discarded the ten of clubs and South ruffed with the ace of hearts.

Now South tried to cash the king of spades but it was too late. Hazen ruffed, then ruffed the last club in dummy, making six-odd.

One pound of tea will make 250 cups of the brew.

Tillson Fire Demonstration

Flames shooting 50 and 60 feet high in the air were quelled in eight seconds through use of a special fog nozzle applicator at a demonstration at Tillson-Saturday for members of the Town of Rosendale Firemen's School under direction of Deputy Fire Chief Harold A. Sanford of the Kingston Fire Department. A special concrete pit, 12 by 12 feet and 1 1/2 feet deep was filled with about one foot of water. On this was dumped 25 gallons of fuel oil, five gallon of gasoline and about 2 1/2 gallon of drip oil. In the one demonstration with an inch and a half nozzle, the flames were checked in 13 seconds. The nozzle, one inch larger did the job in eight seconds. The lines used required a flow of only 70 gallons a minute. (Freeman Photo)

Bus Tieup Averted

New York, July 15 (AP)—Julius Kass, counsel to the city's Labor Relations Division, announced late yesterday that officials of two Queens bus companies and representatives of Local 100, Transport Workers Union, (C.I.O.), reached an agreement in their dispute which had threatened to tie up transportation on lines serving 350,000 passengers daily. Kass said the 300 drivers and mechanics of the companies will receive a seven-cent-per-hour increase which will bring their hourly pay up to $1.20. The new hourly rate is equivalent to the amount paid to drivers and mechanics working for the city under the Board of Transportation.

Owners, Tenants Should Know Law Covering Evictions

Owners of premises for rent as well as tenants now renting property should familiarize themselves with the provisions of Section 209 of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, a section which deals with the eviction of tenants. It is this section which deals with the necessary proceeding required to gain control of a rented property by the owner and it also prescribes the manner in which a landlord may make the tenant liable for eviction.

Frank A. Reik, supervising rent inspector, Office of Housing Expediter, Office of Rent Control, 13 Washington street, Poughkeepsie, calls attention to the provisions of Section 209, which reads as follows:

(a) No action or proceeding to recover possession of any controlled housing accommodations with respect to which a maximum rent is in effect under this title shall be maintainable by any landlord against any tenant in any case, notwithstanding the fact that the tenant has no lease or that his lease has expired, so long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled under the law of the state in which the action or proceeding is brought the tenant is (a) violating the obligation of his tenancy (other than an obligation to pay rent higher than rent permitted under this Act or an obligation to surrender possession of such housing accommodations) or (b) is committing a nuisance in such housing accommodations or using such housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose or for other than living or dwelling purposes;

(2) the landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of such housing accommodations for his immediate and personal use and occupancy as housing accommodations;

(3) the landlord has in good faith contracted in writing to sell the housing accommodations to a purchaser for the immediate and occupancy as housing accommodations by such purchaser;

(4) the landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession of such housing accommodations for the immediate purpose of substantially altering, remodeling, or demolishing them and replacing them with new construction, and the altering or remodeling is reasonably necessary to protect and conserve the housing accommodations and cannot practically be done with the tenant in occupancy, and the landlord has obtained such approval as may be required by federal state, or local law for the alterations, remodeling, or any construction planned; or

(5) the housing accommodations are nonhousekeeping, furnished housing accommodations located within a single dwelling unit not used as a rooming or boarding house, and the remaining portion of which is occupied by the landlord or his immediate family.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act, the United States or any state or local public agency may maintain an action or proceeding to recover possession of any housing accommodations operated by it where such action or proceeding is authorized by the statute or regulations under which such accommodations are administered: Provided, that nothing in this subsection shall be deemed to authorize the maintenance of any such action or proceeding upon the ground that the income of the occupants of the housing accommodations exceeds the allowable maximum unless such income, less any amounts paid to such occupants by the Veterans' Administration on account of service-connected disability or disabilities, exceeds the allowable maximum.

Quake-Stricken Pasto Will Get Medical Aid

Bogota, Colombia, July 15 (AP)—The government rushed medical supplies and assistance today to quake-stricken Pasto in southern Colombia, cut off since yesterday from communication with this capital by a series of tremors feared to have caused heavy casualties and damage.

Unofficial reports said that hundreds of buildings in Pasto, a city of 50,000 near the Ecuador frontier almost 300 miles south of Bogota, had been wrecked. There also were indications that Ipiates, a town of 15,000 to 20,000 thirty miles southwest of Pasto, had been affected.

There was some speculation that the tremors might have been caused by an eruption of Mt. Pasto volcano, at the foot of which the city of Pasto is situated.

News of the earthquake filtered into Bogota by roundabout sources many hours late.

The first tremor was reported to have shaken Pasto at about 2 a. m. yesterday, and was followed by two others at intervals during the day—the longest and worst lasting about nine minutes.

The population of the city, which was devastated by a quake in 1827, was reported panic-stricken, and refugees were said to be fleeing the area. Electricity and water services were said to be no longer functioning.

Bitten by Dog

Officer Carl Janasiewicz of the local police reported to headquarters at 5:45 p. m. Monday that his two-year-old son, Carl, was bitten on the left hand by a dog. The boy, he said, was treated at the Kingston Hospital.

The first watches were manufactured in Germany toward the end of the 15th century.

Democrats Will Nominate Roesch for Supreme Court

New York, July 15 (AP)—Murray Thompson, Democratic chairman of Rockland county, said last night after conferring with other Democratic leaders in the Ninth District, that agreement had been reached to nominate Joseph L. Roesch of Stony Point for Supreme Court justice.

Thompson said the nomination would be made at the Supreme Court judicial convention for the Ninth District at Bear Mountain Inn, August 5. The district comprises Rockland, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess and Orange counties.

The judgeship now is held by J. Gordon Finney, Republican, of Beacon. Roesch is New York city attorney.

Finney was appointed for the last year of his 14-year term, expiring this year, by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Raymond E. Aldrich, Republican.

Queen Has Cinder

Edinburgh, Scotland, July 15 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth had a cinder in her eye last night and the special train which is carrying the royal family to Scotland made three emergency stops en route so it could be treated. Five doctors and eye specialists boarded the train to attend the Queen, and one London newspaper headlined the story above U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's aid-Europe speech. Apparently all was well this morning, however.

June Milk Output High

Albany, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—New York state's milk output during June reached the second highest level on record. The State Agriculture Department said yesterday that 808,000,000 pounds were delivered to dairy plants, a 3.5 per cent increase over June, 1946. The figure was second only to June, 1945.

P.S.C. Turns Down Intrastate Freight Rates Advance

Albany, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—A proposed five per cent increase in intrastate rail freight rates has been denied by the Public Service Commission.

The P.S.C. decision, announced late yesterday, held that the railroads had failed to justify the increase.

Commissioner Spencer B. Eddy said that a large portion of the revenue from the proposed increase would have been "siphoned off by allocations" to railroads in other parts of the country where lower rates are enforced.

"There is no justification for increasing freight rates within the state of New York to enable the railroads to have sufficient revenue so that they may, through the medium of divisions, subsidize railroads in other parts of the country," Eddy's opinion, approved unanimously by the commission, said.

The New York proceeding grew out of a decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission last year granting increases up to 20 per cent in intrastate rates. The P.S.C. approved the intrastate increases for New York.

The I.C.C. also authorized an additional five per cent increase on rates for various manufactured articles in the northeastern states, but the P.S.C. suspended this increase in New York pending a decision on the carriers' claim that revenue needs in the state and other parts of the northeast were greater than in other sections.

The total increase would yield only $500,000 a year and "is so small that it can have very little effect upon the actual needs of the railroads if need for more revenue is the basis for their request," Eddy said.

He added that only the necessity of added revenue to finance intrastate operations would justify the increase and "the railroads have established no such case."

The manufactured articles that would have been affected by the increase, Eddy said, include lubricating oils, copper, brass, zinc and lead articles, machinery and boilers and sewer pipe and drain pipe.

Changes His Mind

Washington, July 15 (AP)—Rep. Arnold (R-Kas.), who advocated a couple of years ago that House members be limited to three terms, announced today he will seek reelection to a fourth term. "I've changed my mind," Arnold told a reporter. "I have learned that it takes three terms in the House to get onto the ropes well, to get more seniority on committees and to do more good for your district."

Otto Zoehrer, Artist, Ruth Sommer Will Wed In Stone Ridge Church

The engagement has been announced of Miss Ruth Dorothea Sommer, daughter of Mrs. Charles Sommer of 116 Florence avenue, Irvington, N. J., to Otto Zoehrer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Zoehrer of Homefield.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Irvington High School and is secretary to the superintendent of schools in Irvington. Her fiancé is a commercial artist in New York city and resides in Stone Ridge.

The wedding will take place Saturday, August 9, at the Methodist Church in Stone Ridge. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Earl F. Spencer. Witnesses were Alma and George Provost.

One Designer Vies With New Fall Look

Associated Press Fashion Editor New York, July 15 (AP)—Pad your hips if you like, squeeze your waistline if you must, but lady, please keep your shoulders square. Such is the plea of Maurice Rentner, who issued a ringing defense of the "American look" along with his fall collection, and predicted that U. S. women will not surrender without a fight to the round-shouldered, wide-hipped silhouette which some designers seek to foist upon them. Said he:

"The American woman, solely for the purpose of change, will not adopt a fashion that is not becoming. I definitely believe that the elimination of the padded shoulder would constitute a sacrifice to her looks and figure. By the same token, most women would not look well in the predicted lengths or widths."

So saying, Designer Rentner shows a highly wearable group of fall fashions which he calls "Modern Empire," in which he uses shoulder pads boldly, clings in many instances to the slim skirt, tapers waistlines and eschews hip pads. A high spot of his collection is the flowing "Dickens collar," upstanding in back, with long points in front, reappearing on coats and suits alike.

Anthony Blotta, known for beautifully tailored suits and coats as well as dresses, also tempers the predicted hourglass silhouette in his collection, uses smaller but still evident shoulder pads, nips in waistlines and achieves hip roundness by means of huge gathered pockets with vertical slits.

In his evening lineup, Blotta shows a series of beautiful and dramatic evening capes and cloaks, with and without hoods. Typical of these is an ensemble consisting of a hooded long black broadcloth opera cape lined in peacock blue satin and red velvet, with a matching satin gown.

Jacqueline M. Martin Married at St. Peter's To Lawrence Scanlon

The wedding of Miss Jacqueline Mary Martin, daughter of Police Sergeant and Mrs. James P. Martin, of 247 West Chestnut street, to Lawrence Robert Scanlon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Scanlon, Lawrenceville street, took place Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in St. Peter's Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry E. Herdgen.

Miss Nan Goldrick was organist. The church was decorated with pink and white snowballs.

Mr. Martin escorted his daughter. She wore a white marquisette gown in train styled with Quaker necktie, long sleeves trimmed with lace and tiers of lace at the front. Her finger tip veil was also trimmed with lace and caught to a tulle of orange blossoms. She carried a white prayer book with gardenias and markers caught with sweet peas.

Mrs. Dolores DeMico, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor wore an archid chiffon gown. "Bridesmaids" were Mrs. Genevieve De Graff in a yellow gown and Miss Elizabeth Culliton in an aqua gown. All of the gowns were in colonial design with hoop skirts and quaker neckties. The attendants wore bonnets trimmed with plumes and veiling to match their gowns and carried old-fashioned bouquets. Miss Peggy DeMico, niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl wore a gown of white nylon over orchid slip with orchid bonnet and carried an old-fashioned bouquet.

James C. Martin, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Walter Byrnes of this city and Cornelius Sullivan of New York.

James Martin, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

The wedding party received 200 guests at a reception held at De Cicco's Tavern, High street. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Scanlon left for a wedding trip to Canada. For traveling she chose a pink linen dress, pink hat and gloves, white accessories and a white swaggar back coat. They will make their home on Hinsdale street.

Mrs. Scanlon is a graduate of St. Peter's Parochial School and Kingston High School. Mr. Scanlon was graduated from St. Mary's Parochial School and Kingston High School and is employed in the Kingston Laundry. He spent two years as a corporal in the army of which 1½ years was in Germany.

Edward McKinnons, Sr. Have 50th Anniversary

Garden Club Hears Of School Gardens In Bayside, Queens

Miss Christine Murcin, principal of Public School No. 31, Bayside, Queens, told of the school gardens that are cultivated by the children in a talk to the Little Gardens Club Friday. The club met with Mrs. Iven S. Fager in West Hurley and heard Miss Murcin as guest speaker. She is a guest of one of the members, Mrs. John Groves, West Hurley.

The school garden project was originated by Miss Murcin several years ago. The children do all of the work and grow a large variety of vegetables. The practical knowledge they gain is correlated with other studies, Miss Murcin explained. To stimulate interest a garden show is held each year.

Members of the club brought flower arrangements for a group exhibit to the meeting. Predominating were lilies, delphinium, Japanese iris, spirea estilbe, larkspur and petunias.

Following the meeting Mrs. John Saxe assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

St. Ann Novena In Sawkill to Begin on Friday

The annual novena to St. Ann will commence Friday evening, July 18 at 7:45 at St. Ann's Shrine in Sawkill and will continue until Saturday evening, July 26. The usual large crowd of devotees is expected to attend the novena prayers and hymns, and listen to the addresses of the Rev. Father Charles F. Reilly, Redemptorist, from Mt. St. Alphonsus Seminary, Esopus.

The priests, sisters, councilors and campers from Camp Wahanda have been invited to attend the novena. Large numbers of novenas from all parts of Ulster and Dutchess county, and from as far as New York, are expected to be present, many of whom will come to venerate the memory and pray for the happy repose of the soul of the late beloved pastor of St. Ann's Church, the Rev. J. Warren Hughes, who erected the present beautiful shrine and instituted and built up this wonderful devotion to the mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

All who make the novena will honor one of the pastors, the Rev. George Stafford, who made a special trip to the Holy City of Rome to procure the relic of St. Ann, to which many favors and miracles have been attributed.

The holy sacrifice of the Mass will be offered every morning throughout the novena for all those sending in written intentions for which they are making this novena.

The Rev. James A. Dunnigan, present pastor of St. Ann's, cordially invites everyone to attend the novena, those who have received favors in the past through the intercession of St. Ann, those in present need of special favors, Catholics and non-Catholics alike.

TRY TO REPLACE SOMETHING YOU BREAK

There are few instances in social life more awkward than the accidental breaking of something in the house of another. This letter, for example, explains: "If, while a guest in someone's house, you break something of value, should you offer to replace the object? If you do offer to replace it, is it proper for the hosts to accept the offer?"

As a rule, a guest who has the misfortune to break something does nothing at the time but say he is sorry. If it is something replaceable, he gets a duplicate at once. If it is something that cannot be duplicated, but might be mended beautifully, he insists upon taking the pieces to an expert repairer. If it cannot be bought and it cannot be repaired, he can do nothing more than say how sorry you are.

Invitation to Clergyman

Dear Mrs. Post: Do the clergyman and his wife have to be sent an engraved invitation to my daughter's wedding? I thought they might feel an obligation to give her a present if they were sent an invitation. He had been asked to officiate and I shall invite her to come, too. Both will be invited to the reception.

Answer: There is no obligation for a clergyman to send a present to every bride at whose marriage he officiates, but if they are very intimate friends of his and his wife and he has a personal wish to send the particular bride a present, it is, of course, proper that he do so.

Proper to Introduce Yourself

Dear Mrs. Post: Shouldn't I have been introduced to a supervisor who was present in my husband's office? My husband is the manager and since this office is open a good part of the time, I went in one day in my husband's absence, merely to wait out of the rain for a bus. The girl left in charge did not introduce me to the supervisor.

Answer: It would have been courteous under most circumstances for her to have explained that you were the wife of the office manager. However, when she did not, you could have introduced yourself had you wished to.

Mrs. Post has written a leaflet entitled, "Introductions," which includes introducing people on formal or informal occasions. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to the care of the Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station C, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Hults Lands Plane Safely in Field

Local Student Pilot Has Icing Trouble While on Flight

Cool judgment and grim determination enabled Oliver Hults, St. James street, Kingston, to land his plane safely Sunday morning when he developed carburetor icing trouble while flying from the Kingston-Ulster Airport where he is undergoing a training course.

Hults, 20-year-old Navy veteran, who served on a heavy cruiser during the war, brought his ship down safely in a farmer's hayfield. He set the nose of the plane against a haystack.

Kaehler, manager of the airport, which functions under the auspices of the Mid-Hudson Flying Service, reported no damage to ship or pilot. Kaehler said that Hults is an excellent student and did a good job of utilizing his knowledge and experience in the emergency.

Statement Made on Policy
Washington, July 15 (AP)—The United States today told American occupation authorities that a "stable and productive" Germany is necessary to make Europe "orderly and prosperous." This statement was contained in a new policy directing outlining basic American principles toward Germany. Made public by the State Department, it supersedes the old directive which has been in effect since May, 1945.

Dodgers Drop Fourth Straight; Battle Peekskill Tonight

Two New Hurlers Sent to Locals From Olean Club

Storm warnings went up on the Kingston Dodger front today, following a disastrous 9-8 setback in Carbondale last night in which Hank Neighbors, dean of "Sugar" Scherger's pitching corps, was charged with his second loss of the season in a relief role. The defeat was Kingston's fourth straight—for the longest losing streak of the 1947 campaign. Among the distressing times that are piling up for the Dodgers is the realization that the pitching staff is shot to pieces for the crucial two-game series that opens in Peekskill tonight. Kingston's seven and a half game margin of four days ago has dwindled to 4½ games. Knobby Rosa, fleet right fielder, will be lost for several more days due to recurrence of an old leg injury. Chris Kittos, the peppery Dodger shortstop, could stand a rest. Kittos blew a game Sunday night and permitted four unearned runs last night. The highly regarded shortstop is not hitting and his fielding has suffered. Sign Two Pitchers Business Manager Paul Taylor announced the arrival of two new pitchers from the Olean club of the Pony League, a southpaw and righty. The southpaw, Jim Bennett, comes highly rated and will be pressed into action tonight in Peekskill. A highly regarded prospect, he was assigned to a Class B League from the Pensacola training camp, but is being sent down for more season. Manager Scherger saw him at Pensacola and rates him a good prospect. Harry Hintz, a Connecticut right hander, is expected to take up the slack created by the sudden reversal of form of the Dodger's first line hurlers. The 1947 records of the two newcomers were not available. Peekskill's 5 to 2 victory over the Stroudsburg Poconos last night shaved the Dodger lead to 4½ games. First place beckons the

Worfs Upset Frank's Sports 7-4 in Softball

Worfs continued to show good form in the City Softball League yesterday, defeating the powerful Frank's Sports 7 to 4, behind the effective twirling of Joe Enright. A four-run blast off Freer in the first inning provided the victory margin. With two outs and one on, Form Coughlin singled to right and Roe let the ball get through. Crosby retrieved it but threw past Tomaseskie at third, scoring two runs. Smith walked and Woods followed with a double. Frank's picked up three markers in the fourth on hits by Tomaseskie, Lindhurst, Freer and Crosby and two Worfs miscues. Roe Batting Star Roe, Frank's right fielder, had a perfect "3 for 3" day, while Crosby, of Frank's, and F. Coughlin, J. Woods and S. and Worfs, each potted two sagitties. Woods and Roe had doubles. Score by innings: Worfs 4 0 0 2 0 1 0 7 8 3 Frank's 1 0 0 3 0 0 0 4 9 4 Enright and Tomaseskie; Freer and Myers.

Subway Trips Hercules Al Hunt pitched Subway Grill No. 2 to an easy 7-3 victory over Hercules, despite a homer by "Red" Newell. Hercules was the losing pitcher. Moxham, Netter and Scott hit doubles.

Fusari and Gioia New York, July 14—Following the first defeat of his young professional career, welterweight Charles Eugene of Irvington, N. J., boxes Eddie Gioia of Philadelphia 10 rounds at Madison Square Garden, July 18.

1946 champions and they are likely to prove extremely tough in the next four engagements. In other North Atlantic League competition, the Nazareth Tigers swept a doubleheader from Nyack 2-1 and 8-2, while Mahanoy City routed the last place Bloomingdale Troopers, 13-1.

Manager George "Sugar" Scherger tried heroically to keep his club in the game, knocking in four runs with three hits in four trips. Scherger played left field and will continue to patrol left field until Jerry Orleman comes off the disabled list or the Dodger farm system furnishes another outfielder.

Zigmund Is Starter Johnny Zigmund was entrusted with a starting role against Carbondale but his support collapsed while he was working on a 7-2 lead. Neighbors came in but was unable to halt the Carbondale sluggers, suffering his second setback against 10 wins. Walt Kowalski clouted his sixth homer. Orleman, who was placed on the disabled list for five days, will be ready for the Peekskill series opening here Friday night. The fleet ball hawk was slumping badly at the plate and was losing weight. The Dodger front office decided on a brief vacation for the center fielder in the hopes that he would be ready for the remainder of the pennant grind.

Walker, Boudreau Batting Leaders In Major Leagues

New York, July 15 (AP)—Harry Walker of the Phillies has lengthened out a commanding 22-point lead in the National League batting race but Cleveland's Shortstop Manager Lou Boudreau is getting stiff contention from New York's Joe DiMaggio for the American League crown. While Walker's first place, 341 outdistances runnerup Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh who is hitting .319, Boudreau tops the American with a .345 mark to 338 for DiMaggio according to figures including Sunday's games.

Wide Open Battle It's a wide open scramble behind Walker in the National with a complete reshuffling of the other positions in the top 10 leaving Kiner, the Pirates' sophomore home run sensation, in the second spot. Enos Slaughter of St. Louis skidded 14 points to a third-place tie with Carl Furillo of Brooklyn at .316. Bert Haas of Cincinnati holds fifth at .315 is followed in order by New York's Walker, Cooper, 312; Pittsburgh's Frank Gustin, 309; Boston's Tommy Holmes, and Boz Elliott, tied at 307 and Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson at 306.

DiMaggio Second Although the American is a two-man battle behind Boudreau and DiMaggio at the time, several others remain in the running. George Kell of Detroit holds third at .329 and Chicago's Luke Appling has a respectable .324 for fourth. George McQuinn of New York, an early season leader, continues among the leaders with a fifth-place .318. Others in the first 10 are Bob Dillinger of St. Louis, 310; Barney McCoskey of Philadelphia, 308; Ted Williams of Boston, 303; Bill Johnson of New York, 301 and Johnny Pesky of Boston, 298.

Louis Has Date New York, July 15 (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis has a date with officials of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club today to see who—if anybody—is to be crowned the "dubious" champion of climbing into the ring with the Bomber in a title scrap this September. Louis stopped off in Washington last night and hinted that a title defense this year was doubtful. "They're having some trouble in finding opponents for me," the champion said during a radio interview in the nation's capital, thereby ducking a direct answer to the question: "Do you see any prospects of fighting again this year?" "But I expect to fight once more in 1948," Joe declared, reiterating a previous statement that he plans to hang up his gloves after next year.

San Francisco—Freddie Apollito, 161, San Francisco, stopped Ruben Shank, 160, Denver (8).

In the ROUGH — By CHARLES J. TIANO Sports Editor

NO OBITS YET, PLEASE: When Alex Gerlak, the Catskill golf wizard, succeeded Walt Thiel at Twaalfskill, there was some talk that Alex, now a p announced bowling addict, had lost his competitive urge, wasn't practicing much and probably wouldn't play championship golf. Somebody misinformed us, but good.

The soft-spoken, popular Twaalfskill major domo, not only is playing golf, but turning in sensational scores. His 66 against Red Hook Sunday is the sign of better things to come. Gerlak fired a 31 round against Joe Sonday, Red Hook, the best reported since Frank Ball's 30 last summer. Chances are Gerlak will explode a 29 before long. He is that kind of golfer and his mental pitch is the best in many months.

You've never seen a master of iron play until you get a glimpse of Gerlak peppering that green from 100 yards out. They say that only big time putting kept him out of the top brackets in national competition. There is some truth to this theory, but don't think Mr. Gerlak goes around blowing four and five foot putts like a duffer. Can you visualize a golfer firing a 66 with several three putt greens? It just can't be done.

OF WEEK-END LORE: The finest way to get close to nature is to tour a magnificent 18-hole layout like the Taconic Golf Club in the college town of Williamstown, Mass., where Tommy Danaher's Wiltwyck Golfers renewed their annual pilgrimage to Dick Baxter's rolling hills. A par 73 layout, the Taconic course is no place for weeklings. It has five par-5 and nine par-4 holes that require absolute mastery of the woods. . . . You need a French 75 gun to reach the greens on your second shot on the par 4s. . . . The fellow who laid out the course must have been farsighted. . . . The course is ringed by the Berkshires on three sides. . . . Gorgeous scenery, almost as nice as taking a trip to the Adirondacks. Made the trip with George Schick, Ralph Gardner and Herman Rowe, who looks like a Minnesota tackle, and plays golf like a man who knows what he's doing. . . . We won 3-1 with Ralph. . . . The medal scores were lost en route.

FLATSAM AND JEISAM:— Williamstown was hit by cloudburst Saturday night. . . . Some of the medal scores looked that way too. . . . If you take under 100 you could grab a beer, facing the bartender. . . . Jimmy Winters pulled a Benedict Arnold, only he operated farther north. . . . He was drafted to complete a Williamstown foursome. . . . When Jimmy's card was turned in, the Wiltwyck team discovered that Jimmy was still playing for the visitors. . . . "Ike" Trowbridge says a move to oysterize Jimmy is under way. . . . Ed Tongue, after a twosome with Tom Collins, the club pro at The Springs, headquarters for gourmets, just outside Williamstown, dreamed up a challenge match. . . . He will take Ray Le Fevre against Ralph Gardner and The Rough and give away 12 strokes. . . . Whom does he think he's playing, "Old Judge" Cashin ? ? ?

Tommy and Dee Danaher made the trip Saturday night, just to check if the Massachusetts rain had anything New Yorkers have been missing all summer. The water fountain had no much pressure they parted your hair, if you weren't careful. . . . Maurice Davenport, the silent ace, teamed with Tommy Danaher to trim Baxter and his partner. . . . It was a homecoming for Tommy, who was raised on the Taconic course. . . . Maurice brought along the family; and they all seemed proud of daddy. . . .

Bill Ingalls and Orlando Ingalls made the trip and trailed the last foursome. . . . It consisted of two blokes from Kingston and a pair from Williamstown. . . . B. I. and O. B. didn't learn much. . . . Roosa and George Schick drew a pair of St. Louis card sharps who kept pulling 4s and 5s out of their sleeves. . . . Taconic had so many golfers under 17 handicap it looked like a pro's convention. . . . Wiltwyck's 19½ points, however, was the best showing in years.

Louis G. Bruhn, the D.A., Stan Winne, Watts Bailey, Ray Le Fevre, Ernie Le Fevre, Abe Streifer, Stan Winne, Art Davis led off early. . . . The duffers came up later. . . . If the schedule had been turned upside down, the duffers would have been on top. . . . Proving that it's just how you look at things. . . .

Williamstown Edge, 25½-19½; Twaalfskill Routs Red Hook

Wiltwyck Golf Club bowed to the Taconic Golf Club swingers of Williamstown, Mass., 19½ to 25½, Sunday in the first post-war renewal of the inter-club series that was a traditional annual feature before the war. Led by Tommy Danaher and Maurice Davenport, who defeated Dick Baxter, Taconic pro and H. Hewitt, 3-0, the Wiltwyck golfers made their best showing in the history on the expansive 18-hole Taconic layout.

Morgan's Seeks Fifth Victory

Czechs Are Winners

Zagreb, Yugoslavia, July 15 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Davis Cup team, already victorious in European play, went after a clean sweep over Yugoslavia in the zone finals today. Its last competition before its series with the American zone winner. Today's two remaining single matches were more formalities for the Czechs, who will go to Montreal August 14-16 to meet the winner of the American zone competition between Australian and Canada. The Australians will play the Canadians in Montreal August 7-9. The winner of the inter-zone finals will challenge the United States at Forest Hill, N. Y., later for the trophy which the Americans recaptured from Australia last year.

Bowler Bows Out

The day of the British business-man's bowler (derby) hat seems to have passed. London haters say one reason is that making a good bowler is a skilled craft and it is hard to find girls willing to be trained. There also is a shortage of material, particularly for the hatband and the inner leather band and for the binding. They do not expect any renaissance of the bowler even when these difficulties are solved. City men now prefer the black homburg, known as the "Anthony Eden."

Tom Davitt Chooses Not to Run

Thomas M. "Tommy" Davitt, president of the Kingston Athletic Association for the past three years, announced today that he is not a candidate for reelection.

Davitt's surprise announcement came on the eve of the Kingston Athletic Association's pre-election meeting Wednesday night at the Elks Club at 8 o'clock.

The popular, hard working president who has elevated the K.A.A. to an important position in local sports circles, said he felt that a new face should take over. Although surprised by the announcement, K.A.A. members indicated that Davitt would be nominated to the Board of Directors and would continue to be a key figure in mapping the Athletic Association's policies.

The nominating committee will submit its recommendations for the 1947-1948 officers at Wednesday night's meeting.

Three Names Mentioned: Davitt's withdrawal from the presidential chair leaves the presidency battle wide open. Among the names most prominently mentioned are District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, Peter Keresman and Coach G. Warren Kias, of Kingston High School.

President Davitt appealed for a large attendance at Wednesday's session. "The nominating committee will make recommendations at our next meeting," Davitt said, "and I hope that as many members as possible will attend. These nominations are not necessarily final and nominations can be made from the floor."

HANK NEIGHBORS

Four Kingston Dodger hurlers are among the first five in the North Atlantic League pitching leaders, with Hank Neighbors setting the pace with 10 wins and one loss, according to latest official figures released by Harry Simmons, league statistician.

Neighbors, the stylish southpaw who notched his 10th victory with a four-hit shutout, overshadowed the league in effectiveness. He has yielded only 63 hits in 86 innings; struck out 74 and granted only 36 walks.

Behind Neighbors comes Lefty Ken Braun, who has had a rocky time of it recently, but who still retains a 8-2 record. Semkowski, of Stroudsburg, is third with a 5-1 mark, followed by Dodgers hurlers, Ted Seddon (6-2), and Alton Gilbert (9-3).

Seber is Workhorse of the circuit is Stroudsburg's Joe Seber, a pitcher who has yet to face the Dodgers. Seber in 15 games, has worked the most innings, 14, fanned the most batters, 125, and sports a 10-3 winning record. Curtis, of Nazareth, is runnerup in strikeouts with 94.

The second-place Peekskill Highlanders lead in team fielding with .956. Nyack is second with .950, followed by the Dodgers with .945. Peekskill and Carbondale tied in double plays with 63.

Ward Seeks Score

Des Moines, Ia., July 15 (AP)—Marvin (Bud) Ward, the curly-haired sharpshooter from the west, went gunning for a record-breaking medal score today in the Western Amateur Golf Tournament. With a four-under par 68 already on the books for a two-stroke lead over his nearest foe, the former national and western champion from Spokane, Wash., needed another 68 to crack the existing mark of 137 strokes for the lowest score in 36 holes of qualifying play in the 48-year-old western. Ward, gaining control of a balky putter that cost him strokes on the outside where he carded a one over par 37, played home in 31, five under perfect figures and the lowest nine hole score in the memory of Western Golf Association officials for their tournament.

Lively's Spectacular One-Hitter Against Brooks Uncovers New Partner for Blackwell

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Cincinnati's one-man pitching staff, Ewell Blackwell, will have to shove over to make room for a robust No. 2 boy in Everett (Bud) Lively.

The 22-year-old unknown from Alabama belted into Manager Johnny Neum's inner circle last night with a one-hit job that fractured Brooklyn's seven-game win streak. Other one-hitters have been tossed this season but none have finished in more spectacular fashion than Mr. Lively's 8-1 performance at Ebbets Field.

Gets 32 Straight

Lively retired the first five Dodgers and then walked Pee Wee Reese. Johnny Jorgensen's double off the right field score board ruined the no-hitter and the shut-out, scoring Reese. But that was all. Twenty-two Dodgers walked up to the plate and back to the bench.

Once in the dim past, Lively's father, Jack, pitched a no-hit, no-run game in the Southern League, facing only 28 men.

Ralph Branca, the Dodgers' hottest pitcher with a personal seven-game win string, was Lively's foe in the fifth after he was tagged for 10 of Cincinnati's 16 hits including a homer by Ray Lamanno.

The Dodgers maintained their three-game National League lead for Boston fell before Chicago in an afternoon game 5-3, and the Cubs finally came out of a nine-game losing spin.

Johnny Sain, Braves right-handed ace and 10-game winner, was hit on the pitching hand by a line drive in the sixth. He was forced to retire.

Hughes Checks Cards

Tommy Hughes of the Phillies, who appeared to be on the way to a new record for games lost a few weeks ago, turned in his third straight well-pitched victory, downing St. Louis, 5-2. The loss, suffered by George Mauer who was working on a seven-game win streak, left the world champs six full games back of the Dodgers.

Doubles by Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial in the first and Whitey Kurowski's ninth homer in the second game Mauer a safe margin but he couldn't hold it. Al Lakeman's single with the bases loaded, and Ery Duskak's arched hit to a three-run fifth inning that meant the ball game.

The New York Giants fell back on their favorite weapon, the home run, to drub Pittsburgh 5-1 with Bill Rigney, Sid Gordon and Johnny Mize hammering homers. It was 10, 3 and 2 figures, seven for Gordon and 26 for Mize, boosting

One out of every one-and-a-half million calves is a midget, but here are four midget cattle. Mrs. Esther Meyers, exhibitor, collected the rare animals—three cows and one bull—and displays them at Melrose Park, Ill. Harold Vandever, 2, tries one out for size with six-year-old Johnny Livors standing by. The midget cattle range in age from 20 months to four years.

Financial and Commercial

New York, July 15 (AP)—Light selling today halted the general stock market advance although individual issues continued to make a little headway and nothing in the way of real weakness was in evidence.

Offerings by those who had good profits on the lengthy swing were based on the idea the list was due for a sizable technical correction. The cloudy foreign picture and waning hopes of tax relief accentuated caution. Inflation psychology, however, remained as an anti-liquidating argument. Pleasing earnings and dividends added favorites but there were exceptions here.

Dealings quieted after a fairly lively start. Trends shifted before midday and moderate irregularity ruled near the fourth hour.

A jump in earnings gave Phillips-Jones common a lift. Ahead most of the time were McGraw Electric, Studebaker, Willamette Industries, Nash-Kelvinator, American Can, Johns-Manville, Chrysler, Santa Fe and Great Northern Railway.

Occasional losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Texas Co., Southern Railway, Spencer Kellogg, du Pont, J. C. Penney, Youngstown Sheet, Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas Aircraft, Sears, Roebuck, Glenside, Martin Western Union, Alcoa, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, U. S. Rubber, Kennecott and American Smelting.

Bonds and commodities were uneven.

foreign office spokesman said he regarded the address as an explanation to Americans as to why they should help Europe. Swedish, Belgian, Dutch and Luxembourg delegates reserved comment.

The French and British view has been that should the Paris conference devise a program of self help, it would have made a major step toward economic recovery although U. S. credits were not immediately forthcoming.

Curley Will Get Salary

Boston, July 15 (AP)—The city corporation counsel ruled today James M. Curley was entitled to his salary as mayor while he is in jail. Joseph A. Scalapone gave his opinion after doubt arose whether the legislature intended for Curley to collect his pay at the rate of $20,000 a year after naming City Clerk John B. Hynes "temporary mayor." In a four-page opinion, Scalapone held "the legislature clearly did not intend to deprive the mayor of the office" and its silence as to whether he should be paid was assent to paying him.

Senate Joins Hunt

Washington, July 15 (AP)—The Senate War Investigating Committee has joined in the hunt to determine whether atomic secrets have been lost to foreign agents. Chairman Brewster (R-Me.) reported today that the committee's staff has revived a wartime inquiry into the spending of $2,000,000 for development of the atomic bomb. Brewster told a reporter the investigation will be broad enough to go into the question of whether "Russian pipelines" were draining highly restricted information from the project. He added that he has no information personally on that question, other than what he had read in newspapers.

OLIVE BRIDGE

Olive Bridge, July 15—Mrs. Janie Eckert, who spent the past week at her home here, returned to Endicott on Saturday, where she has employment. Her mother, Grant Boesmer of Endicott spent the week here with her.

Mrs. Rachel Barringer visited friends in Samsonville on Saturday and Sunday, and attended the Old School Baptist meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barringer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Boesmer went to Kingston on Saturday night to see Mrs. Boesmer's brother, David Markle of Atwood who underwent an appendectomy. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert North of Kingston called on his sister, Sarah Boesmer and family on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Rachel Barringer is spending a few days this week with her granddaughter, Mrs. David Markle of Atwood.

Master Howard Markle and sister, Virginia, spent a few days with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Boesmer.

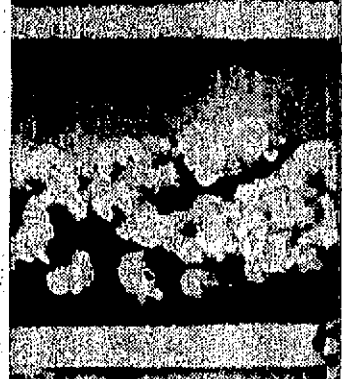

Mrs. Rachel Barringer and Mrs. Janie Eckert had as their guests on Friday for dinner: Mrs. Helen Barringer, Mrs. Flora Green, of Shokan, Mrs. Jennie Miller of Brothheads, and Mrs. Lawrence Winchell of Lake Katine. During the afternoon they called on Mrs. Sarah Boesmer, who is feeling better, but unable to leave her room.

Mrs. Boesmer is appreciative of the many kind remembrances of cards, flowers and fruit.

Mrs. Fannie Boice visited her son, Nelson Boice, a few days the past week.

Softball Game

Union Hose and the Knights of Columbus will meet in a softball game at upper Hasbrouck diamond Thursday evening at 6:30. Union Hose players are requested to be at the engine house by 6:15 p. m.

In one of their first public appearances after formal announcement of their engagement, Princess Elizabeth and Lt. Philip Mountbatten (top of photo) watch the races at Ascot from the Royal Box.

Leaves for Paris

Rome, July 15 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman left by air today for Paris. He had spent two days in Rome as the guest of Ambassador James C. Dunn, during which he saw the Italian president, prime minister, and minister of budget, treasury, and foreign commerce. Harriman said yesterday he would fly to the United States Wednesday. Pope Pius XII received Harriman in a private audience just before the secretary departed.

156th Vet Non-Coms Will Elect Wednesday

At a meeting scheduled for Wednesday in the state armory, there will be election of officers of the Veterans Non-Com Association of the pre-war 156th Field Artillery, New York National Guard. Scheduled starting time is 7:30 p. m., according to C. W. Barth, secretary.
In closing its first successful year, the association cordially invites all eligible personnel to become members.
Combat films will be shown after the meeting by the army recruiting service.

Romeo, Juliet Part
Detroit, July 15 (AP)—Romeo and Juliet have parted, and process servers from Wayne County Circuit Court want to know "wherefore art thou, Romeo?" Juliet St. Amour wants to know, too. Married February 6, 1944 to Romeo St. Amour, she filed suit for divorce yesterday, telling Judge Theodore J. Richter her husband no longer loved her, had called her vile names and put her out of the house in night clothing. The judge issued a temporary injunction restraining Romeo from molesting Juliet or disposing of his assets.

Gives Dress Order
Tokyo, July 15 (AP)—General MacArthur came up today with a few fashion notes for civilian employees of general headquarters. An order signed by the supreme commander said the employees must wear "conventional dress" when in public buildings or places. And such dress, he said, does not include "sun suits, play suits, or men's undershirts as outer garments."

LUCKY STRIKE presents THE MAN WHO KNOWS—

THE TOBACCO AUCTIONEER!
"I'VE SOLD well over 350 million pounds of tobacco at the auctions down South, and year after year, I've seen the makers of Lucky Strike buy quality tobacco... fine, light, fragrant tobacco that makes a grand smoke."
J. H. BURNETT, INDEPENDENT TOBACCO AUCTIONEER of Buffalo Springs, Virginia (16 YEARS A LUCKY STRIKE SMOKER!)

FINE TOBACCO is what counts in a cigarette
JOE BURNETT IS RIGHT!... And like him, scores of other experts... who really know tobacco... have seen the makers of Lucky Strike buy the kind of tobacco that makes "a grand smoke."
After all, that's what you want in a cigarette... the honest, deep-down enjoyment of fine tobacco.
So remember...
LUCKY STRIKE MEANS FINE TOBACCO
